City of Mexico, Jan. 28.—The government has received semi-official advices from Guatemala City to the effect that the elections for president, members of assembly, etc., have been held in that republic, and the result, so far as the president is concerned, is not yet known, but it is believed Reneas Barrios is elected by about 5,000 majority. KILLED IN A PRIZE FIGHT

Another Majesty Affair in Cincinnati.

Bob Brown Dies From Ring Injuries.

A Vicious Blow, After the Man Had Been Knocked Out, Placed Him Beyond Medical Aid.

Cincinnati, Jan. 28.—After several futile attempts Charles Vokes, a well-known prize fighter, and Bob Brown, a game young man who never fought in a professional ring before, met last night. About 150 Cincinnati sports boarded a ferry boat with the contestants and went down the river.

When 10 miles down a ring was formed on the lower deck and the fight began. For 13 rounds it was a magnificent contest, the honors being even. In the fourteenth round Vokes gave Brown a full length upper cut which met him full on the jaw.

He staggered up and tried to keep his feet, but in vain. Time was called for the fifteenth round, and Brown, more dead than alive, tried to stagger in. Vokes hit him again, and he fell in a heap.

Brown's father, who was a spectator, then rushed in and stopped the fight. The contest was given to Vokes.

Brown was unconscious, and on the trip back to the city every effort was made to restore him, but in vain. Arriving at Cincinnati after midnight, Brown was carried away on a stretcher.

He is reported dead this morning, and all the attendants are badly frightened. Vokes assisted in the efforts to restore Brown to consciousness. Vokes is 23 years old and weighs 133 1-2 pounds. Brown is 20, and weighed 130 1-2. Two-ounce gloves were used.

McCARTHY WON.

He Defeated Callaghan in the Fourteenth Round.

New Orleans, La., Jan. 28.—The international featherweight contest at the Olympic club last night between Tommy Callaghan of England and Cal McCarthy of New Jersey, was witnessed by about 3,000 people.

Great interest was felt in the match from the fact that the winner was promised a go with George Dixon for the world's championship.

Callaghan trained at Bay St. Louis in care of Jim Robinson, while McCarthy got in trim at Carrolton under the eye of Willie Kenney. Callaghan's first American victim. The men fought for a purse of $2,000, of which $1,500 goes to the winner and $500 to the loser. Both weighed in at 6 o'clock and were two pounds each over weight. After a friendly parley, however, between the men and the president of the club, all decided to let the fight go on.

A PERFECT DEATH TRAP.

Investigating Into the Indianapolis Fire.

Patients Had No Show for Their Lives.

No Alarm Was Given and No Steps Taken to Awaken the Sleeping and Helpless Victims.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 28.—Coroner Manker took the testimony of ten of the patients at the surgical institute yesterday and several of them told the story of their peril and escape in the most graphic manner.

Miss Lenora Knowles said that she and eight other patients were sleeping in a room on the third floor, and she was awakened with an alarm of fire from one of her room mates.

She knew where the fire escape and stairway were, but she jumped from the window upon the shed roof below and was followed by all the others except Minnie McDonald, who remained to dress herself and was burned to death.

The witness did not hear any alarm at her door and did not believe any alarm was given. Her escape by the stairway was cut off by the fire before she was awakened.

Dr. McLain, the house physician, testified that patients were required to remain at the institution and confessed that treatment had been refused to patients because they would not board there.

The Apology of the Chileans in Line

With What the Administration Demanded.

In the Meantime Uncle Sam Did Not Get Lost in the Shuffle and Kept on Oiling Up His Old Shot Guns.

Washington, Jan. 28.—(Special)—Mr. Blaine has stated that Chile's reply to our ultimatum is acceptable and that all danger of war is passed. He made this statement in most positive terms to Chairman Blount of the foreign affairs committee.

"I had a long talk with Secretary Blaine," Mr. Blount said. "The secretary told me, as nearly as I can recall his words, 'the reply which we have received from Chile is satisfactory and puts an end to the whole difficulty.'"

Continuing, Mr. Blount said, "The reply is much more extensive than the cable reports state. It shows that Chile's apology is much more satisfactory than we thought it would be."

Foreign Affairs.

The Chilean correspondence, and the accompanying message of the president has been again discussed by the senate committee on foreign relations, but no definite action was taken. The committee has not received from the president a copy of the dispatch from Minister Egan concerning Chile's agreement to acknowledge the Matta note as an error of judgment and to submit the Valparaiso tragedy to arbitration; but it is probable that it will be sent to congress within a few days.

The committee decided to await the receipt of more definite information concerning the controversy, as the new phase which it has assumed on account of Chile's proposed concessions leaves the matter in such a condition that action upon it is left almost entirely in the hands of the executive branch of the government.

The committee has not received anything from the president or the secretaries of states and navy in addition to the matter contained in the correspondence submitted Monday.

A meeting of the senate committee on naval affairs was held this morning, but the Chilean matter was not considered. There was a rumor that Capt. Schley of the Baltimore, who arrived in Washington yesterday, would appear before the committee to answer questions concerning the killing of Riggin and the wounding of other sailors of the Baltimore in Valparaiso, but Capt. Schley did not put in an appearance. He may, however, be requested to make a statement to the committee.

It is probable that a joint session or several joint sessions of the committee of the senate and house having charge of foreign affairs will be held to consider the message and correspondence.

This idea has been suggested to members of both committees and it has met with a favorable response. The house committee on foreign affairs will meet to-morrow morning to consider the correspondence.

THE CRUEL WAR IS OVER.

Chile Has Done Even More than Was Asked.

Washington, Jan. 28.—The Chilean trouble is over so far as the likelihood of war is concerned, and the questions that remain to be settled can be adjusted peaceably and satisfactorily through means agreeable to the principals concerned in the controversy that up to yesterday threatened a bloody conflict.

The concessions made by Chile, as outlined by Minister Egan in his dispatch to the state department, are satisfactory to this government, and everything points to a speedy and peaceful ending of the trouble.

The news that Chile's advances are satisfactory to this government was made public by Representative Blount, chairman of the house committee on foreign affairs. Mr. Blount's authority is Secretary Blaine, on whom he called at the state department in connection with the controversy.

Mr. Blaine told Mr. Blount that the cablegram from Minister Egan had been received at the department. It was entirely satisfactory to the United States, he said, and he had no objection to Mr. Blount making public this fact as his knowledge of what the dispatch contained.

"The bottom is out of it," said Mr. Blount. He said he made this statement on information furnished him by Mr. Blaine. The latter, said Mr. Blount, seemed very much elated. Mr. Blount said Mr. Blaine showed him the dispatch from Mr. Egan. It was in manuscript and covered about six or seven foolscap sheets. He said it was a satisfactory response to the president's ultimatum, and in a nutshell it meant "we unqualifiedly meet your demands."

TROUBLE AHEAD FOR CHILE.

Balmaceda's Followers Making the Most Out of the Situation.

New York, Jan. 28.—The Herald's Santiago correspondent says there is intense excitement in that city and much anxiety is felt as to the reply of the United States to the note sent by Minister of Foreign Affairs Pereira relative to the ultimatum.

Nothing else has been discussed in the clubs or on the streets for the past 24 hours. The supporters of the Balmacedist government are crowing over the manner in which this matter has been conducted by the present government and are doing all they can to inflame the people.

In Valparaiso the matter is being discussed in a calmer manner, merchants and bankers there generally believing that a peaceful settlement of the pending difficulty will be reached.

Intense excitement prevails over the entire country and telegrams from Iqueque, and north and south provinces, are constantly arriving asking if the question has been settled. The Peruvian residents of Iqueque are jubilant over the existing state of affairs and the people of that place are wrought up to a high pitch.

In Santiago and Valparaiso the papers print the wildest stories relative to the ultimatum. La Union being especially bitter, calling upon the people to stand together and uphold the honor of the country. La Union says, in regard to the story current that the United States would require a salute of the stars and stripes:

"Our noble sailors would prefer sinking to the bottom of the sea rather than salute the Yankee flag."

It is regarded as strange that the exact terms of Chile's reply are not generally known, and it is thought that the papers are keeping them back.

La Union prints a letter from an Englishman advising the severance of all diplomatic relations with the United States.

A majority of the intelligent people, however, will look upon the withdrawal of the demand of the Chilean government for a recall of Minister Egan, and in regard to an apology, with favor.

It is reported that the cabinet is much displeased with the course of Pedro Montt, the Chilean minister at Washington. It is said here that his last message, received Friday, assured his government that the affair was coming to a speedy conclusion. He has all along led President Montt and his advisers to believe that Mr. Blaine was desirous of submitting the whole affair to arbitration.

Some think that Pedro Montt has been misled by Richard Turnbull, Julie Foster and their democratic friends.

The excuse made for the demand for the recall of Minister Egan is that it was understood that he had cabled Secretary Blaine that the Chilean government had granted safe conduct to the refugees and then recalled it. It is said he never made such a statement, but he did say that the government had given tacit consent to their removal, and this cannot be denied.

Judge of Crimes Foster has been ordered by the minister of justice to proceed at once to conclude the trial of the men in the Baltimore case and to drop everything else.

Judge Foster promises that he will finish the cases by Friday.

The purchase of the cruiser now in Armstrong's yard by the Chilean government is confirmed.

THEY DISCUSSED US.

All Chile Was Looking Over the Map of the United States.

Santiago, Jan. 28.—The text of Chile's reply to President Harrison's ultimatum has not yet been made public. It is awaited on all sides with intense interest. The substance of it has already been indicated from here, and this, so far as can be learned, meets with general approval on the part of the intelligent classes.

The news that President Harrison had sent a special message to congress on Monday relating to points at issue between the United States and Chile, and the dispatches published here describing the attitude of the American republic toward the matter, have caused no little popular excitement here.

The Baltimore incident, the president's ultimatum and message, and the dangerous tension of the relations between the two governments have been the sole topics of conversation in all circles. They dominate the newspaper columns to the virtual exclusion of all other questions.

The younger and hotter headed continue to indulge in much war talk. Rather than have their government acknowledge its fault or apologize for its utterances, these young patriots declare that they would perfer to see a resort to arms. Such talk as this, it is believed, reflects the opinion of a large element of the common people.

The naval officers are reported to be much stirred up at the thought that they may be called upon to salute the stars and stripes. They go so far as to say, according to the reports published in to-day's papers, that they would see the Chilean fleet sunk before they would salute the American flag.

Whatever the government may say officially in withdrawing the offensive note of Senor Matta of December 11, there are abundant indications that Senor Matta's popularity will not in any way be decreased because of his authorship of that now famous dispatch. Instead, it looks very much as though this was the most popular act of his administration of the department of foreign affairs.

While the cabinet has been deliberating upon the precise form of language in which to apologize to the United States for Senor Matta's discourteous and undiplomatic performance, preparations have been actively going on by a committee of leading citizens to honor Senor Matta with a grand and imposing banquet. This will take place next Saturday and promises to be a brilliant affair.

HAS STRENGTHENED THE NAVY.

The War Scare Has Not Been Without Good Results.

New York, Jan. 28.—It is the opinion among naval officers in New York that the Chilean affair, even if there is no war, will be the best thing that could have happened for the United States navy; the result will be, they say, that the number of war vessels will soon be doubled, and within a few years the United States will be, what she should be, a formidable maritime power.

Ever since the Matta letter was written, unfavorable comparisons have been made between the strength on the water of Chile and the United States. Claims have been made that Chile was fully as strong at sea as the United States, but the officers of the New York naval board of inspection say that the United States could show within two weeks after it became necessary that Chile was weak on the water when compared with the strength which this nation could soon secure.

"On this coast alone there are 40 good merchant steamers that could be fitted up as auxiliary cruisers on short notice," said a naval officer yesterday who spent several years of service in the United States navy along the Chilean and Peruvian coast. "In time of war I believe the government could take possession of the vessels without the consent of the owners, but they would no doubt surrender them willingly for a good price; that is, throw them over to the United States for a certain length of time."

Ready for Sea.

San Francisco, Jan. 28.—A dispatch has been received at the Union iron works from Commodore Folger, chief of the bureau of ordnance, dated January 25, bringing information that the first shipment of side armor of the coast defense vessel Monterey will be shipped in one week from date of dispatch, and the first shipment of barbette armor will be sent in two weeks from date of dispatch. The engines of the Monterey were started yesterday at 9 p. m., and were run until 11 a. m. to-day. They were run at 75 revolutions per minute, and worked smoothly throughout the time. Irving M. Scott said this afternoon that so far as the motive power and boilers are concerned, the Monterey is ready for sea.

The Church Party.

City of Mexico, Jan. 28.—El Tiempo, commenting on the Chilean news in to-morrow's issue attacks the people of the United States, calling them an execrable race of cowards, who, because they are powerful, would attack a small nation. El Tiempo is the organ of the church party.

SUES THE COMPANY.

A Peculiar Case in the Arkansas Courts.

A Woman Wants Damages Because Her Husband Was Murdered on a Train.

Little Rock, Ark., Jan. 28.—A three cornered case commenced in the United States court yesterday under the title of Sallie Myer V the St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern railway and the Pullman car company of Illinois.

The plaintiff is the widow of Isadore, Meyer, the commercial drummer who was murdered by John M. Graeter, a passenger on an Iron Mountain train near Baldknob, Ark., on February 17, 1891. The widow claims that her husband was not given the necessary protection as a passenger and asks damages amounting to $50,000.

SENT TO CONGRESS

Additional Correspondence With Chile.

Has That Country Been Misrepresented?

Montt Reiterates That Due Apology Was Made,

And That His Government Regretted the Affair.

What Will Probably be the Last Chapter in a Most Interesting International Question—The Documents as Presented To-Day.

Washington, Jan. 28.—The president to-day sent to congress the additional correspondence in the Chile matter.

The president's message of transmittal is as follows:

To the Senate and House of Representative:

I transmit herewith the additional correspondence between this government and the government of Chile, consisting of a note of Mr. Montt, the Chilean minister at this capital, to Mr. Blaine, dated January 27; and a dispatch from Mr. Egan, our minister at Santiago, transmitting the response of Mr. Peirera, the Chilean minister of foreign affairs, to the note of Mr. Blaine, of January 21, which was received by me on the 26th inst.

The note of Mr. Montt to Mr. Blaine, though dated January 23, was not delivered at the state department until after 12 o'clock, meridian, of the 25th, and was not transmitted, and its receipt not filed to me until late in the afternoon of that day.

The response of Mr. Pereira to our note of the 21st withdraws, with acceptable expressions of regret, the offensive note of Mr. Matta of the 11th ultimo, and also the request for the recall of Mr. Egan.

The treatment of the incident of the assault upon the sailors of the Baltimore is so conciliatory and friendly that I am of opinion that there is a good prospect that the differences growing out of that serious affair can now be adjusted upon terms satisfactory to this government by the usual methods and without special powers from congress.

This turn in the affair is very gratifying to me as I am sure it will be to the congress of the people.

The general support of the efforts of the executive to enforce the just right of the nation in this matter has given an instructive and useful illustration of the unity and patriotism of our people.

Should it be necessary, I will again communicate with congress upon the subject.

BENJAMIN HARRISON.

First was Chile's answer to the ultimatum of the 21st, dated January 25, and received at the state department 3 a. m. January 26. It is as follows:

Santiago, Jan. 25, 1892.

To Blaine, Washington: I have to-day received the following reply to my note of 22d instant:

Sir—The undersigned has had the honor to receive your excellency's communication dated 22d instant, received in this department the 23d, and the duly authenticated copies of the instructions which the honorable secretary of state of Washington has sent to your excellency by cable, under dates of the 21st instant, and the 23d of October, 1891.

In the instructions of the 21st instant the honorable secretary of state informs your excellency that his excellency, Mr. Harrison, after carefully examining all that has been submitted to him by the government of Chile, with respect to the event which occurred in Valparaiso on the evening of the 16th of October, and taking into consideration the testimony of the officers and crew of the vessel, the Baltimore, and of others who witnessed the event, has arrived at the following conclusions:

First—that with regard to the assault there has been no change whatever made in the character given to it by the first report of the event, to-wit: That it was an attack upon the uniform of the United States navy which had its origin and motive in a feeling of hostility towards the government and not in any act of the individual sailor belonging to it.

Second—That the public authorities of Valparaiso evidently did not do their duty in protecting those sailors, and that in part of the police and some Chilean soldiers and sailors rendered themselves guilty of unprovoked assaults on the sailors of the United States before and after the latter were arrested and that he believes that Riggin was killed by the police or the soldiers; and

Third—That he is consequently compelled to carry the question back to the state in which it was placed by the note of the honorable Mr. Wharton, dated October 23, and to ask for suitable satisfaction and some adequate reparation for the injury done the government of the United States.

The honorable secretary of state, Mr. Blaine, regrets that the government of Chile has not from the very first appreciated the gravity of the question raised, and that it has attributed to it no other importance than that of an ordinary quarrel between ordinary sailors, adding that no government which respects itself can consent to civil or military persons employed in its service being maltreated or killed in a foreign territory on account of resentment for acts which it may have committed, or which may be imputed to it, but without requiring adequate reparation.

The honorable Mr. Blaine in this connection recalls the fact that the government of the United States has voluntarily recognized this principle, and has acted accordingly when any injury has been committed by its people against any one holding an official position of a foreign country, in consequence of acts which had aroused resentment.

In such cases the United States has never sought words of little weight or ambiguous meaning in order to make reparation, but have condemned such acts in vigorous and energetic terms, and have never refused to give other adequate satisfaction.

The honorable secretary of state, Mr. Blaine, states moreover that it is not his intention to discuss the details of the incident of October, but only to set forth the conclusions at which his government has arrived. The honorable secretary of state says:

"We have given every kind of opportunity to the government of Chile to offer explanatory or extenuating circumstances and we have given due consideration to the fact that the government of Chile during a part of the time which has elapsed since the 16th of October, has been in a provisional situation."

He then adds that he is directed by his excellency, Mr. Harrison, to say that he has been compelled to take notice of the instructions sent by Mr. Matta, minister of foreign affairs, to the Chilean minister in Washington, under date of December

11, because, although they were not officially communicated to his government, they received the greatest possible publicity, and that consequently he demands the immediate withdrawal of the said instructions as to those parts which he considers offensive, and adequate satisfaction, in order that the diplomatic relations between the two nations may not be interrupted

Without any intention of opening a discussion as to the facts referred to by the communication, which I have extracted, and confining himself to the first part of the instructions of the honorable secretary of state, the undersigned must state to your excellency the regret with which the government of Chile sees that his excellency, the president of the United States finds reason to continue to regard the incident of October as an attack caused by a hostile feeling towards the uniform of the navy of the United States. That unfortunate occurrence took place on a sudden, in a district where the sailors of the vessels lying in the bay of Valparaiso are in the habit of assembling, without distinction of nationality.

From the nature of the incident it would be impossible to prove that there was no doubt as to the special cause which served as its origin or pretext; but the undersigned can assert that that cause was not a hostile feeling towards the uniform of the navy of the United States, because the people of Chile have always esteemed and respected that uniform ever since the time when it saw it figuring honorably in the ranks of the soldiers and sailors who, in a glorious struggle, gave it independence and established the republic.

The undersigned admits that the occurence of October 16 was of greater gravity than those which usually occur in the same district between the sailors who frequent it, and the fact of knowing that two deaths have resulted from it among the sixteen wounded men of the Baltimore, has sufficed to give it an extraordinary character, and to induce the government of Chile to hasten to adopt the measures necessary to discover and punish the guilty parties, to offer in due time, if there should be ground for so doing, such reparation as might be due.

The preliminary examination was commenced on the morning which followed the night of the conflict, some days before you presented your complaint, but the investigation could not be finished with the rapidity that the government of Chile desired, because the rules of procedure in criminal matters which are established by our laws, are of slow application, and it was not possible for the president of the republic to modify or set them aside.

This delay, which was inevitable owing to the independence with which the judicial authorities must act, compelled the government of the undersigned to delay, greatly to its regret, the settlement of the difficulty pending with your government, and a spontaneous offer of reparation for any injury done to the sailors of the Baltimore that might be attributed to Chilean soldiers or sailors, or that might affect the responsibility of Chile.

In view of your communication, and considering that, up to date, it has been impossible for the trial initiated by the judge of the criminal court of Valparaiso to be decided, the undersigned regards it as his duty to declare once more that the government of Chile laments the occurrence of October 16, and by way of showing the sincerity of his feeling and the confidence which he has in the justice of his cause, he declares his willingness not to await the decision of the examining judge and proposes to the United States government that the case be submitted to the consideration of the supreme court of justice at Washington, to the end that that high tribunal, with its learning and impartiality, may determine, without appeal, whether there is any ground for reparation, and in what shape it should be made.

The undersigned would remind you, referring to the conduct of the Valparaiso authorities, that it appears from the preliminary examination that they sent without delay to the scene of the conflict all the forces at their disposal belonging to the special guard of the intendencia and to the police.

Swanson, Rose, Nicholls, Darony, Hontes, Cunningham, Williams, Talbot, Hallard, Hodge, Butler, etc., seamen belonging to the crew of the Baltimore, stated to the interpreter of the vessel that the object of the police in arresting them was to shelter them from any attempt at attack by the excited people.

The undersigned thinks that the action of the police in this matter should be considered a due allowance for the civil war which had been recently brought to a close. The body was not properly organized, nor did it have the force that was required to put down a disorder of such proportions in a short time.

In this connection it is proper to recall the words used by the honorable secretary of state at Washington in his note addressed to the Marquis Imperiali, and bearing date of May 19, 1891: "There is no government, however civilized it may be, however great may be the vigilance displayed by its police, however severe its criminal code may be, and however speedy and inflexible may be its administration of justice, that can guarantee its own citizens against violence growing out of individual malice or a sudden popular tumult."

This was precisely the situation of the administrative authorities at Valparaiso on the occasion of the occurrence which took place in October.

The undersigned hopes that the foregoing will convince the honorable secretary of state that the government of Chile attaches due importance to the question now under discussion; that he does not for a moment hesitate to condemn, in vigorous terms, the act committed on the 16th of October, or to offer such reparation as is just, and that he has not neglected the opportunity to express these sentiments before now, since on various occasions, and through the plenipotentiaries of both countries, he has forwarded explicit declarations on the subject to Washington.

The undersigned takes the liberty to recall the fact that, five days after he had taken charge of the department of foreign relations, he addressed to the minister of Chile in the United States a telegram which, in the part relating to this matter, says:

"Express to the United States government what has already been stated, adding all the data that are known, in the most correct and amicable form; express to the United States government very sincere regret on account of this unfortunate incident, which, although not strange in the ports of the world, this government doubly laments, owing to its sincere desire to cultivate friendship with the United States."

If the United States government should not accept the foregoing explanations as satisfactory, notwithstanding that the judicial authorities hold the guilty parties responsible for the disorder of October 16, the undersigned must recall the circumstance that the government of Chile, through the medium of its minister in Washington, has expressed the desire to submit any misunderstanding (dispute) to decision by arbitration by any power or tribunal which may be indicated to it, and in fact arbitration was suggested in conference with the minister of Chile in Washington on the 30th of December, when the government of the undersigned declared its good will and its resolve to accept arbitration after final judgment, which would not be further delayed many days, in furtherance of its purpose to give a speedy solution to the incident in most friendly terms.

The government of the undersigned called upon its minister for a definite reply on the 11th inst., and on the 13th Minister Montt reported that, notwithstanding certain observations made by the American state department with respect to the opportuneness of resorting to arbitration he had nevertheless agreed with the honorable Mr. Blaine that if any divergence of views, or discord should supervene after the verdict of the Judge of Valparaiso, such controversy would yield to arbitration.

The undersigned hastened to declare that he would fully accept such an agreement; for which reason the government of Chile deems that the case has arisen for submitting to arbitration, in terms as ample as those above indicated, any difference of views which it may have with the government of the United States concerning the incident of the Baltimore.

There is therefore submitted to the honorable secretary of state the designation of either the supreme court of justice of the United States or a tribunal of arbitration to determine the reparation which Chile may have to make for that lamentable occurrence.

As for the dispatch addressed under date of the 11th of December to the Chilean minister in Washington by the minister of foreign relations of the provisional government, the undersigned submits that there could not be, on the part of the government of Chile, the purpose to inflict any offense upon the government of the United States, with which it desires over to cultivate the most friendly relations.

Consequently the undersigned deplores that in the telegram there were employed, through an error of judgment, the expressions which are offensive in the judgment of your government, and in fulfillment of a high duty of courtesy and sincerity toward a friendly nation, the government of Chile absolutely withdraws the said expressions.

The undersigned trusts that this frank and explicit declaration, which confirms that which had already been made to the honorable secretary of state in Washington, will carry to the mind of his excellency, Mr. Harrison, of his government, that the people of Chile, far from entertaining a feeling of hostility has a lively desire to maintain unalterable the good and cordial relations which up to the present time existed between the two countries—a declaration which is made without reservation in order that it may receive such publicity as your government may deem suitable.

With regard to the suggestion made touching the change of the personnel of your legation to which the instructions of the honorable secretary of state refer, it is incumbent upon the undersigned to declare that the government of Chile will take no positive step without the accord of the government of the United States, with which it desires to maintain itself on a friendly understanding.

The undersigned brings this already long communication to a close in an assurance that he has therein set forth everything that can fully satisfy your government.

The government of Chile cherishes the conviction that the relations with the government of the United States should be sincerely and cordially maintained under the shelter of that mutual respect, and that good understanding which are based upon the just and equitable appreciation of the facts, and on the appreciation to be given to the spontaneous declarations made on either side.

The undersigned moreover declares that in presenting its explanation his government finds its inspiration in the words of the instructions which you have quoted, and which assures the government of Chile that the president is not disposed to exact or ask anything which your government would not under the same circumstances spontaneously concede.

With sentiments of distinguished consideration, I am your obedient servant.

LUIS PEIRERA.

Mr. Montt to Mr. Blaine.

Legation of Chile

Washington, Jan. 28, 1892.

Sir:—I have had the honor to receive your note of yesterday, as an enclosure to which you are pleased to transmit to me the instructions sent to Mr. Egan on the day previous

In the numerous conferences with which you have been pleased to favor me, I have informed you that, immediately after the occurrence of the events of October 16, at Valparaiso, which my government most sincerely deplored, the judicial authorities initiated the investigation necessary to throw light upon the facts and to punish the guilty parties.

From the antecedents which the government of Chile was able to collect at the very outset, it appeared that the disorder of October 16 began by a quarrel among drunken sailors, which assumed considerable proportions, owing to the condition of the locality in which it originated, and that the police performed their duty by re-establishing tranquility and placing the persons who seemed to have been concerned in the disorder at the disposal of the court.

The government of Chile has no data authorizing it to think that the quarrel was due to any dislike of the uniform of the United States, or that the police failed to perform their duty.

On the contrary, it is a well demonstrated fact that sailors get intoxicated when they go ashore after having been on board their vessel for a long time. This is also quite natural.

The government of Chile could not however form a final opinion of the nature of the occurrence in question, or as to whether the police had or had not improperly participated therein, or had failed to perform its duty, until the termination of the judicial investigation which had been initiated without delay, and which was pushed forward as speedily as possible with the provisions of the law, with the obligation of collecting all the elements of proof that it was possible to collect in order to throw full light upon the matter, and with the necessity of properly punishing the perpetrators of the offenses which had been committed, and which had been in part suffered by persons in the service of a friendly nation.

It was the desire and the duty of the government of Chile to discover the truth, in order to make its future proceedings confirm thereto, and in order that the United States government may be satisfied that nothing was neglected in order to do full justice.

You were pleased, with your high sense of rectitude, to remark to me that this proceeding of the government of Chile was correct, and that although you desired that the judicial investigation might be brought to a close with as little delay as possible, you understood that it was necessary that the ordinary legal proceedings (which were not as rapid in Chile as in the United States) should be held.

I have taken occasion at sundry times to inform you of what the Chilean authorities were doing to bring the investigation to a close.

In the criminal trial held at Valparaiso, not only have the landsmen been heard, but also the seamen of the Baltimore; both have been confronted with each other, the reports of physicians and experts have been called for, the opinion of the surgeon of the cruiser has likewise been invoked, and, in a word, nothing has been neglected that could tend to bring the whole truth to the light.

The seamen of the Baltimore made their statements with the assistance of an interpreter, designated by themselves, who was an officer of the cruiser, so that the oath taken by the witnesses, their confrontation with each other, the reports of the experts concerning the cause and nature of the wounds, and the hearing granted to both Chileans and Americans, so that all might present their complaints and charges and be heard in their own justification, gave incontestible authority to the trial held at Valparaiso.

In the course of our conferences we considered the possibility that the government of the United States and that of Chile might fail to agree when the investigation should be terminated, and the two governments should have formed their final opinion, and we agreed that arbitration was the best means of settlnig the difficulty, and advancing farther in this conciliatory spirit, we even formally agree that the differences that might arise should be submitted to arbitration.

This agreement to accept arbitration has been the basis of several of our conferences, especially that of the 18th inst., and no antecedent or fact interfering therewith has come to my knowledge.

On the contrary I took occasion to inform you, on the first of January that my government authorized me to conclude an agreement looking to arbitration, and my government subsequently approved the argument concluded by me with you of which I also informed you.

As the criminal trial initiated at Valparaiso has not yet come to an end, my government has not yet been able to reply to the demands made by that of the United States.

The various documents and antecedents to which I have called you attention in my foregoing communications, were designed to inform the United States government of the progress of the investigation and of the facts thereby elicited.

They did not, however, constitute a reply, which can only be given when the facts are definitely brought to light by the sentence which must be pronounced by the courts.

The testimony which the government of the United States has caused to be taken in California from the crew of the Baltimore cannot take the place of the trial which is being held at Valparaiso, where the offenses were committed. This testimony may be useful for disciplinary or administrative purposes in the United States, but it cannot serve as the basis of a judicial sentence, either in Chile or in the United States.

The copy which I have to-day had the honor to send you of the statement made by one of the seamen of the Baltimore at Valparaiso shows that that seaman made no charge against the police. The charges which he makes here, in the absence of the accused parties, in contradiction of his first statement, can have no value, either in law or in your enlightened opinion.

It is to be observed, moreover, that the statement made by this seaman at Valparaiso is attested by the judge, by the seaman himself, and by that of the interpreter, who was an officer of the Baltimore, who had been appointed for the express purpose of inspiring the deponents with confidence.

You were pleased to state, in your instructions to Mr. Egan, that the undersigned has not communicated to the United States government the note that was addressed to him by Mr. Matta on the 11th of December last.

The first time that the honorable secretary of state saw fit to call my attention to the aforesaid note of Mr. Matta, I told him that that note contained instructions addressed to me, and, that as I had not been directed to communicate it to the department of state, there was no reason why the honorable secretary should take cognizance of it.

I further reminded you that it was a doctrine established by the American government that documents exchanged between the president and congress, or between the department of state and the diplomatic representative of the United States in foreign countries, could not form a subject of discussion for foreign governments.

Mr. Montt closes his note by stating that he has deemed it his duty to state the foregoing facts which show the friendly and cordial purpose of the conference in which Secretary Blaine took so important a part.

Secretary Blaine in his answer to this, under date of January 27, in which he proceeds to correct some mistakes, which from zeal for his country Mr. Montt has made, insists that Mr. Montt's offer of arbitration was never unconditional and exact, and states that the requests for the recall of Mr. Egan should have been accompanied by reasons therefor.

The hand of time deals lightly with a woman in perfect health. But all functional derangements and disorders peculiar to women leave their mark. You needn't have them. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription comes to your rescue as no other medicine can. It cures them. For periodical pains, prolapsus and other displacements, bearing-down sensations, and all "female complaints" and weaknesses, it is a powerful restorative tonic and nervine, imparting strength to the whole system in general, and to the uterine organs and appendages in particular. It keeps years from your face and figure—but adds years to your life.

It's guaranteed to give satisfaction in every case. If it doesn't, your money is returned.

No other medicine for women is sold on these terms.

That's because nothing else is "just as good."

Perhaps the dealer will offer something that's "better."

He means that it's better for him.

RETURN OF AN OLD FASHION.

A hundred years back it was customary for fussy people—old maids particularly, God bless them—to hang little bags at the head of their beds and put away things they might want before morning, says an exchange. We have not seen anything of the kind for years, but now we discover that these bed pockets are being sold in England, although the extent of their use is not stated. They are arranged in fanciful shapes of brass, and hung by chords or ribbons from the head of the bedstead. There is a place for the pocket handkerchief and a place for the watch. Likewise a place for the pocketbook and a sign to the burglar, "Step softly, and don't disturb the sleeper." One can keep here his cough mixture, or bottle of nightcaps and eye-openers. Some of these devices take the form of niches to hold the holy water or saintly figures for use in Roman Catholic countries. We have not seen them in America, but once let them be introduced and they certainly would sell. It's a big improvement over poking things under the pillow.

AH THERE, GRIFFIN!

Are You Playing Both Ends Against the Middle?

The Burly Statesman Accompanies the Cleveland Delegation on a Mission Against a Toledo Candidate.

Columbus, Jan. 28.—(Special)—The railroad commissionership fight is waxing warm, and the various candidates are pressing their claims with vigor. It is a matter of comment in political circles that Representative Griffin, of Toledo, accompanied the Cuyahoga delegation this morning on a mission to Governor McKinley in favor of McVean, the Cleveland applicant. This step causes additional surprise because of the fact that it is well-known that Toledo has a candidate for the position in the person of William Kirkby, whose recommendations are among the best that have ever been filed by any one seeking a state office.

Mr. Griffin, it is understood has promised his support to Kirkby, and this coddling with the Cuyahoga man does not strike the average politician as being square. Only one explanation appears, which is that Griffin expects to have Lucas county solid in his race for secretary of state, and if he can play to secure the Cuyahoga delegates he will think himself lucky. It is a bold move, and the result of the duplicity will be watched with interest.

BAKERS' STRIKE STILL ON.

Begins to Look Very Much Like a Lockout.

The Men Declined to Resume Work with Vienna Yeast and the Bosses Make the Bread Themselves

The trouble between the boss bakers and their men is still on, and the indications are to-day that the fight may be a prolonged and bitter one. An effort to settle the difficulty last night resulted in nothing, and to-day each side is firm and taking active steps to get the better of the other.

The Bosses' Ultimatum.

At the meeting of the bosses yesterday afternoon a communication was written to the men, in which they were offered their places back again, if they would take them and go to work at the usual time last night. The communication further stated that the employers would insist upon buying whatever yeast they saw fit. To this communication the men, at 2 o'clock to-day, had returned no reply, nor did any of the union men go to work last night. The bosses were notified that they would receive an answer from the union at 10 o'clock this morning, but it did not come.

What the Men Are Doing.

Bakers' union No. 66 has been in almost continuous session since the men were called out. There is the utmost harmony among the men, and but one opinion. That is expressed as follows: that they (the men) do not assume to dictate to the bosses what yeast they shall use, but only ask them not to use a boycotted yeast; that the Vienna brand is one in which the boycotted Fleischman has an interest and, as union men, they cannot use it. The union is in communication with the international executive board at Chicago, and will of course receive the backing of the International Bakers' union and of all other labor organizations. It is likely some member of the general executive board will be here to-day.

Committees from the union have been actively at work this morning. It is understood that a few non-union bakers have been found and brought into the union. A committee is also at each of the depots to see any bakers who may be brought to town by the trouble and induce them not to take the places of strikers.

What the Employers Say.

Among the firms which do the largest business in the city, and which therefore have the most at stake in the present trouble, are the Maumee Valley Baking company, Brenzinger, Tait and Meinert. It is understood these are the only firms which stand out against the union.

To a Bee Mr. William Fisher, secretary and treasurer of the Maumee Valley company, said:

"We do not believe that the Vienna yeast is under a boycott. Mr. Clark, the agent, who sold us the yeast has written to Albany, N. Y., for a list of the incorporators of the company making this yeast, and such other information as will show that Fleischman has nothing to do with this brand of yeast.

"We do not want to use a boycotted yeast and we do not want to have trouble with our men. We think the men might have waited to be certain that the Vienna yeast was a boycotted yeast before they went out. We would do anything reasonable to get along smoothly with our men, but we cannot yield to what is unreasonable.

Who Gets a Commission?

"The fact of the matter is, probably one or two men in the union are getting a commission of the Fermentum yeast sold the baking establishments in the city, and it is in their interests that the union is made to demand no other shall be used," said one employer in the city to a Bee to-day.

The Fleischman Boycott.

Said Mr. Brenzinger: "There are 16 manufacturers of yeast in this country, and not a single one of them employs organized labor."

"Why, then," said the Bee reporter, "is Fleischman only boycotted?"

"There are three Fleischman brothers," said Mr. Brenzinger. "One makes yeast, one is a baker. The Bakers' union had trouble with this one, and the Fleischman who makes yeast is boycotted because he is his brother. There is no union-made compressed yeast in the country, and these men know it."

How They Are Getting Along.

The Maumee Valley company has all its wagons out to-day, nine of them, and is supplying its city trade without trouble. They sent word to country consumers yesterday that they could not furnish them with bread to-day. The four members of this firm are all bakers, as are most of their drivers, and all turned in last night to do the baking.

At Tait's it was about the same way. One green man worked last night, and others have been hired to-day. Mr. Tait did not try to supply the city trade today, but all express and regular retail trade, hotels included, was supplied. Tait's wagons were not out to-day, but will be to-morrow. The situation is particularly hard on Mr. Tait as he did not order any of the disputed-over Vienna yeast, but his men were called out with the rest. He is having a housecleaning and painting up to-day to fill in the time.

At Meinert's the members of the firm and the drivers did the baking last night. They have the usual number of wagons out to-day, and so far have heard no complaint from their regular customers.

Brenzinger appears to be in the best fighting trim. His wagons are running as usual. He has five of them. He has filled all orders, and has also filled the places of the strikers with new men, and claims that he will have a full running force to-night.

The bosses will help each other, and stand out against the union.

The Situation To-Night.

Nothing new has developed in the situation this afternoon. The union remained in session in Druid hall, but the employers sent no further communication in.

"That they want to force a fight on us," said one member, is evident from the communication sent us yesterday. It says we must return to work by 5 o'clock, or not at all. It is signed by Rifter, for the Maumee Valley company, Brenzinger, Bitterly, Tait, Seafang, Birkenhauer, Meinert, Lay and Howe. Now, the men had not quit at four of those shops. But they joined the rest in the letter. If we yielded on this point, they would raise another. They want to break us up."

It is said four members of the union have weakened and gone back to work.

DELIGHTFUL AFFAIR

Was the First Ball of the Street Railway Motormen and Conductors.

The motormen and conductors of the Toledo Electric Street Railway company gave a delightful ball at Pythian Castle last evening and there were nearly 800 people in attendance. The affair was conducted in an excellent manner and a program of 26 dances kept the merry-makers late into the morning.

Leon's orchestra furnished the music and the party was voted an unqualified success by all who attended.

The management of the ball was in the hands of the following committees:

Finance—J. Wagener, C. Wells, F. Hurst, J. Martin.

Arrangements—L. Wagner, T. Wall, J. Hoffman.

Floor—L. Wagner, E. Alder, J. Devlin, Mat Herman, B. Price, P. Lane, C. E. Booth.

TO THE PEN.

Sandusky, Jan. 28.—Charles Schwein was sentenced to the penitentiary yesterday for five years for larceny; Benj. Pierce for three years for burglary and Fred Struble one year for larceny.

A TROY BLAZE.

Troy, Jan. 27.—J. S. Reed & Son lost their grain warehouse by fire, originating in the office, and destroying the entire structure. Loss on the building $3,000, with $2,400 insurance.

LOCAL OPTION.

Tiffin, Jan. 28.—Local option scored a close victory in Hopewell township, the majority being 4 out of a total of 263 votes cast.

STATE DRILL GROUND.

The Repeal of the Law Creates Much Indignation.

Newark, O., Jan. 28.—A big public meeting of the citizens of this place was held last night for the purpose of protesting against the action yesterday of the house of representatives at Columbus in repealing the law providing for a permanent encampment of the Ohio National Guard.

It was thought that everything had been amicably settled between the two factions, one of which represented the farmers who were opposed to the bill, and the other the citizens of Newark, who favored its passage.

A compromise was effected last night by which it was agreed that the city of Newark was to pay $18,000 and the county $1,000, and when the news was received here of the action of the house there was great indignation among our people.

A delegation of 500 prominent citizens will go to Columbus to-day to urge the legislature to act in good faith, since the citizens of Newark have complied with the provisions of the law by donating to the state the splendid site for the permanent encampment.

IT IS ORGANIZED.

The Metal Polishers' International Union Born in Toledo.

The visiting delegates to the convention of metal polishers left the city today very well satisfied with their work here, which has resulted in the organization of an international union of the trade. The last business transacted was the election of officers, as follows:

President—T. M. Daly, Pullman, Ill.

Vice president—Wm. Warwick, Dayton, Ohio.

Secretary and treasurer—F. J. Carr, 20 Drummond block, Toledo, O.

President of executive board, H. J. Eikoff, of Detroit; secretary of executive board, Thomas Taylor, address, 97 York street, Cleveland.

Delegate to American Federation of Labor—H. J. Eikoff.

Organizer—Ernest Lameroux, Piqua, Ohio.

M'BRIDE'S SUCCESSOR.

Reported that John B. Rae Will Be the Lucky Man.

Columbus, O., Jan. 28.—It is rumored about the political centers that Gov. McKinley has decided to appoint John B. Rae to the position of state commissioner of labor statistics, which is now held by John McBride. The rumor that he is to receive the appointment is probably due to the fact that Gov. McKinley held a conference with him, which, in view of his active candidacy for the place, is regarded as very significant.

A SPLENDID SHOWING.

The report on the examination of the New York Life Insurance Co. recently made by the New York state superintendent of insurance, which appears elsewhere in this impression of the Bee, is worthy of a careful study by all persons interested in life insurance. The report shows that the assets have increased nearly $5,000,000 in the six months ending June 30, 1891, and in spite of rumors to the contrary the surplus has only been reduced less than $190,000. Those interested may be assured that this conclusion is accurate and trustworthy.

A COLUMN OF SMILES

How She Won Her Point.

"Mary," he said, as he scowled at her over the breakfast table.

"John," she replied, fearlessly.

"Mary," he said, "what kind of a breakfast do you call this?"

"I call it an excellent one, she returned, bravely.

"You do!" he exclaimed. "Well, I don't! I think a little variety occasionally would be a good thing. Do you realize that this is the third morning this week that we have had corned-beef hash?"

"Certainly, John."

"And that we had corned-beef for dinner yesterday and cold corned beef for supper?"

"Of course, John. You wanted me to run the house as economically as I could."

"Yes, but—"

"You said that the amount of meat consumed in this house would bankrupt a bank president."

"I know, but I—"

"And that I ought to plan with more regard for the expense."

"Certainly, certainly, Mary; but hang it all—"

"I've been following your instructions."

"But I don't like corned beef!"

"I know it, John," she said in a businesslike way. That's what makes it last so long. It keeps expenses down splendidly, and if you want—"

"I don't!" he exclaimed. "I don't! Let them run up! You've got too good a business head for anything outside of a boarding house."

Important Information.

A professor in the medical department of Columbia college asked one of the more advanced students:

"What is the name of the teeth that a human being gets last?"

"False teeth, of course."—Texas Siftings.

A Slight Palsy.

"My dear," said the absent-minded professor on entering the breakfast-room, "don't alarm yourself, but a slight palsy has manifested itself in my left foot. In spite of the fact that the glass is below zero my right foot rejoices in more than normal warmth, whereas the left is quite rigid and stiff and cold as ice." Upon the advice of the family doctor, who was sent for without delay, the professor was put to bed, when it was discovered that he had two socks upon his right foot, while his left was entirely unprotected.—New York Mercury.

A Household Remedy.

"Doctor, my son William is not well. He has not got any appetite, and he complains of headache and general debility."

"My dear madame, the best thing is to try a simple household remedy."

"What household remedy do you suggest, doctor?"

"Deprive him of his latch-key so he will be obliged to stay at home after dark."—Texas Siftings.

Hard to Down a Boston Brain.

Anxious wife—What is his ailment, doctor?

Physician—I pronounce it paresis, madam.

Boston sick man (feebly)—According to recent authorities, you—don't pronounce it—correctly. The—accent—is on the—first syllable.—Chicago Tribune.

A Complete Surprise.

"Surprise parties are always cut and dried beforehand."

"Not always. We gave one to Rev. Mr. Hicks the other night. We found him in the bath tub, and his wife in the back parlor reading Laura Jean Libbey."—Puck.

A Timely Suggestion.

Col. Percy Yerger's little boy Johnny, who is not as good at school as he ought to be, brought home a very poor certificate, which showed that he had been disobedient and lazy. The exasperated parent procured his cane, and said:

"You are the worst little boy in New York. Now, Johnny, what ought I to do with this cane?"

"Pa, hadn't you better take a walk with it? It's a walking cane, you know."—Texas Siftings.

A Man of Nerve.

He dropped ten thousand on the board,
Nor turned a single hair;
And smiled to hear his friends applaud
His nerve so debonair.

But in a crowded cable-car
A nickel he did drop,
And then he made everybody move up,
chinned the conductor, lighted matches,
ruined a two-dollar pair of gloves, lifted the floor gratings, and had to find the five-cent piece
Before the search he'd stop.
—Chicago Times.

How to Get On.

Mrs. Suddenrich (a smart woman)—Did ye write to the Highstyle Engraving company for specimens of all their latest visitin' cards?

Daughter—Yes, maw, an' they just sent 'em—'bout a hundred of 'em, all sorts and kinds.

"What names is on 'em?"

"Names of all the big-bugs in th' city."

"Put 'em on th' parlor table."—New York Weekly.

Irrevocably Lost.

Husband—What did you do with that $10 bill you took out of my pocket?

Wife—It's where you'll never find it.

Husband—Where's that?

Wife—In my pocket.—New York Press.

Senator Squire's "Little Boy."

Senator Squire recently played a scurvy trick on Senator John B. Allen. They were traveling from Washington. When they went to secure sleeping berths there were only two to be had—one upper and one lower. The two senators "tossed up" for choice and Senator Allen won, taking the lower berth, of course. During the night the train stopped at a station in Missouri, where a large, heavy woman entered the sleeper looking for a berth.

Squire poked his head out between the curtains and seeing the ponderous lady, said:

"Madam, the berths are all taken, but if you wish you can occupy the one just under me, where my little boy is sleeping."

This was satisfactory to the Missouri amazon, who removed her shoes and then swung around into the bunk. Just about this time the disturbed occupant attempted to rise to see what the intrusion meant.

With one fell swoop of her palm she clapped it squarely over the gentleman's mouth, saying. "There, little boy, don't speak. Your father said I could sleep here."

Again the "little boy" attempted to rise and this time he managed to say:

"Madam, I want to tell you that I'm no boy."

"Who are you, then?"

"Who! I'm Senator Allen from the state of Washington," he exclaimed.

"My conscience!" she yelled, and sprang up and dashed out of the car exclaiming, to the consternation of every one but Squire, "Oh, what would Hiram say if he knew?"—Northwestern Magazine.

A Little Word-Coiner.

As expressive word-coiners children often score a marked success. There is a little girl in a village along the Northern New Jersey railroad who has a donkey which possesses all the stubbornness usually attributed to the animal. Girl, donkey and cart were at the station as usual one day this week. The donkey was in no hurry to go, but the little girl was. She tugged, she pulled and hauled with no effect. Then she drubbed him with the butt of her tiny whip, concluding with "Now, there, will you go now?" The donkey's only response was to turn his head, and, I might almost say, grin. Sinking back in her seat with an air of despair, the golden-haired little maiden said: "Well, if you ain't the worst for stay-stillness I ever saw! I don't b'leeven you'd go if Gab'l was to blow right in your won't-hear ears." And as our train rolled away the donkey still stood, unmoved even by such powerful invective.—New York Recorder.

All Questions Cheerfully Answered.

Housekeeper—"Have you any Mocha coffee?" Small dealer—"Yes, mum." "Genuine Mocha?" "Just imported, mum." "Import it yourself?" "Oh, yes, mum. I send my orders direct to the—the sultan, mum." "Humph! How much have you on hand?" "About sixty pounds, mum." "You have, eh? Sixty pounds? I read in the paper this very morning that not over fifty pounds of genuine Mocha reaches this country annually." Yes, mum, that's true. I had 'bout ten pounds left over from last year."—New York Weekly.

THE VOICE OF THE FARMER

Heard in the Halls of the Ohio Legislature.

The Supreme Court Salary Bill Killed.

Resolution Adopted Favoring the Closing of the World's Fair on Sunday — General News of Interest.

Columbus, Jan. 28.—(Special)—The house this morning defeated Mr. Clark's bill increasing the salary of the supreme court judges $1,000 per year.

It only received 32 votes in affirmative. The lawyers were divided in its favor and all the farmers opposed its passage.

M. J. Hartley, democrat, has resigned as trustee of the Soldiers' Orphans' home at Xenia.

The house has adopted Kean's resolution requesting the world's fair commission to keep the doors of the exhibition closed on Sunday during the time of holding the same.

Twenty representatives voted against its adoption.

The Camp Grounds.

The senate this morning passed a bill by Mr. Nichols authorizing the canal commission to lease gas and oil lands at St. Mary's reservoir.

The senate wrestled with the permanent encampment bill which was repealed by the house, and the sentiment of the body is against the state securing such a site.

This feeling is caused by the action of Senator Iden, who is one of the most disliked senators.

Senate bill and house amendments were disagreed to, so a conference committee will probably settle the whole affair.

Bills Introduced in the House.

Mr. Brittain—Requiring chiefs of volunteer fire departments to give certificates of exemption from working road tax to members of volunteer companies, the certificates to be filed with the corporation clerks.

Mr. Doty—Making it punishable by from $200 to $500 fine to fail to comply with an order of inspector or workshops and factories to erect fire escapes or safe guards about machinery, and giving the inspector jurisdiction over tenement and apartment houses.

Mr. Doty—Authorizing directors of county infirmaries to care for insane persons when they cannot be cared for in regular asylums. State is to pay $3.50 a week for such cases.

Mr. Bloch—Placing restrictions upon fidelity and casualty insurance companies by requiring them to report to and obtain a license from the insurance commissioner, and making them subject to his scrutiny.

These companies may become securities on contracts, public and private official bonds, and in cases pending before courts, be excepted as bail bonds in criminal cases.

They must have a paid up capital of at least $250,000, and must have not less than $100,000 in securities deposited with the proper state official of the state in which the companies are incorporated.

Bills Introduced in the Senate.

Mr. Carpenter, of Fayette, (by request)—To authorize board of trustees of sectarian colleges and universities to increase their membership by the election of trustees-at-large not exceeding the number of conferences or religious orders cooperating, and to divide such trustees-at-large into classes at the discretion of such boards.

Mr. Parker—To provide for the election of a board of education at large in the city of Cleveland; and also a director of education, who shall have executive charge of the school system.

Mr. Bain (by request)—To permit inmates of insane asylums to write one letter each week to confidential friends, without inspection by officials.

Mr. Rorick (by request)—Abrogating all disabilities imposed on married women under the common law, and giving them the right to appeal to the courts of law and equity in their own name.

Mr. Abbott—Prohibiting the catching of rabbits with ferrets.

Notes.

House yesterday passed Tischbein's bill providing that in Cincinnati the certificates of the city auditor or city clerk shall not be required in condemnation proceedings until the amount of the value of property involved has been fixed by judicial proceedings.

Taylor, of Champaign, yesterday afternoon introduced a bill transferring to Ohio State university the money raised under the Hysell bill. It amounts to $84,200.

The house has passed McCoy's sheep killing bill so that hereafter all claims for sheep killed by dogs shall be presented to township trustees for payment instead of to county commissioners.

The senate resumed consideration of evidence in contest of Snook v. Sutphen. All evidence for contestor relating to Paulding county was read and showed a majority for the contestor of four votes. It makes no difference what evidence democrats may offer it will do no good, as he has got to be bounced. Further consideration will be resumed this afternoon.

Representative Boyer introduced a bill yesterday afternoon to repeal the law that prohibits the appointment of a resident trustee for the various state institutions in the different counties of the state. The law enacted last winter also provided that stewards must not be a resident of the county in which the institution is located. Boyer has made a mistake; he should have allowed the republicans of this city to fight it out themselves.

FORGED CHECK

Worked Off on Draper & Nugent Monday.

An Old Game That Usually Finds Easy Victims—The Forger Out of Sight.

The forged check game seems to be a good one in Toledo and easy to work. The latest victims are Draper & Nugent, the furniture dealers, who dropped a small sum with a sleek rascal Monday.

About 11 o'clock Monday morning a man giving the name of Joseph L. Price, went to Draper & Nugent's store with two women and ordered about $125 worth of furniture on the installment plan. To make a down payment of $15 he tendered a check for $42.50 on the Union Savings bank, signed by John Emerson, superintendent of the Prudential Life Insurance company. He represented that he was collector for this company and displayed a business card. He was given $27.50 in change and left with the women.

The firm suspected nothing wrong and delivered the goods at the address given, on Huron street, where the women lived, and with whom Price said he was going to board.

Yesterday, however, the women returned to Draper & Nugent's store and inquired for Price, saying that they had not seen him since Monday.

The firm made inquiries, and found that the check which they had received and cashed was a forgery, and furthermore that Mr. Emerson has no account at the Union Savings bank.

The matter was at once reported to the police, who have the matter in hand, but as yet have not apprehended the forger.

Price is a young man about 22 years of age, of medium build, with black hair, black eyes and dresses well.

He worked for the furniture house of Goldberg & Jacobson up to three weeks ago, when he left there.

It is also reported that Price has a somewhat bad record and is wanted in Chattanooga, Tenn., for obtaining money under false pretenses. His parents live in Dayton.

Investigation by a Bee revealed the fact that Price had dinner Monday at the Lake Shore house, near the Union depot, and it is probable that he left the city on an afternoon train.

A WEEK OVERDUE.

The Polaria May Have Been Burned at Sea.

New York, Jan. 28.—The steamer Polaria is a week overdue and it is thought, in shipping circles, that the burning vessel reported by the Dundee on January 11th was the Polaria, as she would have been in the neighborhood of the burning ship at about that time. The agents, however, believe that the Polaria has been delayed by heavy weather and is all right. The Polaria had 28 steerage passengers and no cabin passengers.

CHARGES AGAINST JUDGE WOODS

New York, Jan. 28.—A Washington dispatch to the Press says that process have been issued by sergeant-at-arms of the senate summoning Judge Claypool, Leon Baily, Noble C. Butler, William Nichols, James H. Rice, Eli Ritter and E. B. Sellers, of Indiana, to appear before the senate committee on judiciary on Friday next to testify in the investigation of the charges against Judge Woods.

MATCHED TO FIGHT.

New York, Jan. 28.—Tommy Kelly, the "Harlem Spider," and Chappie Moran, of England, were matched yesterday for a ten-round fight for $500 a side, the contest to come off within three weeks. Both men are feather-weights. It is thought that the fight will take place near Brooklyn.

THE FIGHT IS OVER.

Chicago, Jan. 28.—The Michigan Central, Lake Shore, Big Four, Lehigh Valley and Nickel Plate railroads will immediately resume the sale of Alton tickets. It is expected that the Pennsylvania will follow to-day. This will end the famous boycott on the Alton road, of which there has been so much talk during the past few months.

TO CLOSE THE SALOONS.

A Ten O'clock Ordinance for Findlay.

New Light and Power Company—Interesting Gossip From the Brilliant City.

Findlay, O., Jan. 28.—(Special)—The Hancock Light and Power company, with a capital stock of $25,000, has been incorporated. The new company is the same capitalists which control the Findlay electric car line. They expect to be ready for business about the first of April. This will give Findlay competition in electric light.

The Findlay Rolling Mill company have increased their capital stock from $100,000 to $150,000.

William Shuck, one of the old time residents of Amanda township, died yesterday at the advanced age of 73 years.

It is thought a new 10 o'clock saloon-closing ordinance will be adopted by the city council at their next meeting, Monday night. The majority of the members have expressed themselves in favor of the measure. The old one became defective by an amendment offered by the city solicitor.

Robert Lillie, of Toronto, was married on Tuesday evening to Miss Zettie McColhan, Rev. L. R. Mears officiating.

Austin Granel and Charlie Suhl have succeeded C. W. Lee in the management of the old Davis opera house for the balance of the present season.

WILL WHITELAW RESIGN?

Such is the General Belief in Washington.

He is Coming Home in February and May Never Return to France in an Official Capacity.

New York, Jan. 28.—The announcement that Whitelaw Reid, United States minister to France, will return to New York next month, has led to the rumor that he will resign his position and resume editorial work.

In Washington the story of his proposed resignation is generally believed, and it is said that Mr. Reid has already advised the statement of his intention to resign.

Donald Nicholson, who is in editorial control of the Tribune in Mr. Reid's absence, said to-day that he has no information that Mr. Reid has resigned or intends to resign his post at Paris.

Some close friends of Mr. Reid affect to believe that there is no truth in the rumor. "I know that he is expected home in February," said one. "I understand that Mr. Reid has been granted a long leave of absence, and he will remain here to attend to private business for two or three months."

COLD WAVE IN LONDON.

Four Men Found Frozen to Death.

The First Zero Weather of the Season Results in Several Fatalities in the Great City.

London, Jan. 28.—The first zero weather of the winter in this section has been followed by the report of four persons found frozen to death yesterday.

James A. Bisbee, an iron founder 64 years old, was found dead in one of Chelsea's streets by men going to their work.

John James Barnett, a ticket-of-leave man from the Concord reformatory, was found dead on the marshes along the turnpike leading from Lynn to Saugus.

Patrick Cronin, who wandered from his home in Brooklyn while insane Monday, was found dead in a carriage house at Brockton.

Marxis Bauer, a 53-year-old German, was found dead on his doorsteps at his home in New Bedford. All of these deaths resulted from exposure.

REV. LINDSAY PARKER

Talks to the Business Men at Noon To-Day.

Quite a number of business men gathered at Trinity church this noon to listen to a 20 minute address by Rev. Lindsay Parker, of Brooklyn, who said among other things: "Many a man goes through the Bible every year but the great trouble is that the Bible doesn't go through him. Many men attend service, Sunday after Sunday, time and time again, and about all that could be said of the matter is that they do attend; they don't do much else; they don't get at the inside of what they are doing; they are groping around in the shadows only.

"What is life? Why are we here? You don't think of these matters usually. Perhaps you do for an instant when you hear a remarkably strong sermon that seems to touch your case; perhaps you do when those that are dearest in this world to you are taken away; then it is that you think, what is it that life gives us worth the having? 'You will not come to me' says Christ, 'that you may have life.'

"My friends, place your hands in his, Low, here. Turn your back on all that is degrading, defiling, sordid and selfish. The change can be made to-day. What do you think about it?"

Rev. Parker will deliver another address to-morrow at 12 o'clock.

DYNAMITE EXPLOSION.

Miller, Ga., Jan. 28.—This town was shaken yesterday morning by a terrific explosion of dynamite. The explosion caused a fire which destroyed two stores. The loss is about $12,000; partially insured.

STILL AT SEA.

New York, Jan. 28.—Nothing has yet been seen of the missing tug Webster and her scows, and the fate of the 18 men aboard is still unknown.

Toledoans will be glad to hear of this deserved recognition of one of its singers abroad. Mr. Engwersen hopes to be back in Toledo again by the first of April.

PRINCE GEORGE OF WALES.

He Will Have a Time in the Queen's Yacht.

The Heir Presumptive to the English Throne Proposes to Make the Most of His Opportunities.

London, Jan. 28.—The health and movement of Prince George, of Wales, now heir presumptive to the throne, are carefully watched and daily reported to the papers. He is strongly attached to the navy, and the report that he intended to leave the service was premature.

It has been ascertained, on good authority, that the prince desires to have a sole command and his wish will be complied with.

He will shortly be appointed to one of the finest cruisers in the service. Before he takes his new command he will probably go on a tour of Egypt in the royal yacht, "Victoria and Albert" until he has thoroughly recovered.

Rules for Butter Making.

The Royal Agricultural Society of England, says the Kansas Farmer, has published some excellent rules for butter-making, which are as applicable in this country as elsewhere, and from the list we condense:

1. Rinse all dairy utensils in cold water.
2. Scald with hot water and rinse again with cold.
3. Always use a thermometer.
4. Churn the cream at a temperature of 58 to 60 degrees in summer and 60 to 62 degrees in winter.
5. Give the churn good ventilation, and churn at 40 to 45 revolutions to the minute.

Stop churning when the butter has formed in pellets the size of small shot.

7. Draw off the buttermilk, and pour pure water into the churn until it runs off clear and uncolored.
8. Make a strong brine, and pour into the churn through a fine sieve.
9. Remove the butter and work it with the laddle or upon a butter worker. Never use the hands. To these may be added the precaution to allow the butter to stand eight or ten hours, then work carefully to expel the excess of water, and insure solidity, when it ready for printing or the tub. If these directions are followed the streaks in the butter will never appear.

OPPOSED TO WOMEN.

Their Admission into a Medical College Caused Trouble.

St. Louis, Jan. 28.—Five of the faculty of the Missouri medical college have tendered their resignations, which have been accepted.

The cause of the withdrawal is the result of the admission of 17 young women as students. The admission of the women was obnoxious to the majority of the students, and they petitioned the faculty to dismiss the women.

The faculty refused to entertain the petition, and five of the faculty who sided with the male students withdrew from the college. Their places have been filled.

TOLEDO, OHIO, JANUARY 28, 1892.

It isn't at all likely that bonds will be issued to refund the natural gas certificates of indebtedness.

Preparations for the Chilean war have cost us over $3,000,000. That should be put into the indemnity bill.

Indigestion, jingo, Quayism and expediency are curiously mixed ingredients, bottled and labeled "Republican nomination, 1892."

The natural gas contractors compelled the trustees to pay outrageous prices for laying pipe, and now they want to grab a lot of good bonds. Hold them to their original contract. They cooked this meal, now let them eat it.

The worst jab our Mayor has received is to be called "one Vincent J. Emmick." Promissory Vincey made a fatal mistake when he undertook to play the Germans of Toledo for suckers. They are done with Mr. Emmick.

Emperor William was thirty-three years old yesterday, and it was a fete day throughout the empire. The emperor is a well-disposed young man who has learned some things and who has many more to learn. Here's hoping he may have many happy returns of the festal occasion.

If the United States government would put a tariff tax on everything, and raise it higher on demand, and then arrange for a system of pensions that could be perpetually expanded as the situation indicated, we would be a rich, free and independent people, supported by the tribute of foreigners who would pay liberally for the privilege of landing their goods on our shores. This is the substance of ultra republican doctrine, plainly set forth.

"It is all nothing now." Such were the words of Cyrus W. Field yesterday, as he assurred the friends at his bedside that he wanted to die. It is the supreme sorrow of a great soul—life has nothing left when the honor of a fair name and good family is tarnished by ineffaceable disgrace. How forcible is the illustration. Look at the pictures of Cyrus W. Field published a few years ago. Orders of honor cover his broad breast, the glory of his wonderful achievement in telegraphy which made his name known round the world, illuminates his countenance. "It is all nothing now," he is ready to die. It is one of the most pathetic cases in the history of the country's great men.

The San Francisco Call admonishes the democrats in congress who are talking about the "billion-dollar congress" to "bear in mind that it takes money to put rivers and harbors in condition," etc. Democrats in and out of congress have been keeping track of the channels through which the billion dollars floated away, and they also know a little about the alleged river and harbor improvement. This kind of glittering generalization is the best and only defense the supporters of the reckless and extravagant Fifty-first congress can offer. But we have eminent authority for the belief that the people are not all fools, all the time, the broad term standing for a species of political strabismus.

Thousands of Russian peasants, knowing their case could not be worse, are turning their steps towards the towns of bleak Siberia, hoping in the less populous parts of the empire to find some means of aid and succor. A large number of these make Tobolsk their objective point. Miles and weary miles over a trackless, snowy waste the poor emigrants tramp, picking up crumbs of charity from the kind-hearted villagers where they chance to pass. The little city of Ticomen, a hundred miles or more from Tobolsk, has fourteen thousand of these destitute and helpless pilgrims, who can journey no farther, on its hands, nearly as many as its own population. Typhus fever has broken out among them and they are dying in sheds and hovels, where their bodies freeze stiff before the breath of life leaves them. No funerals are held and the dead are tumbled into pits in heaps. Even the priests of the Greek church refuse the last sacrament to the plague-stricken victims. And this is in the midst of a so-called Christian country in the closing days of the Nineteenth century. And the ruler of these unhappy subjects receives a salary of $25,000 a day, and the nobles of his provinces presented to the Czarina, the other day, an ermine mantle which cost money enough to buy food for an army of starving peasants. It is a sad, sad story to darken the pages of present-day history for Russia, blackened and blurred as they are already with record of inhuman cruelty.

ALMSHOUSE FIGURES.

A census bulletin, just issued, gives statistics on paupers in almshouses in 1890, classified by age and sex. The average age of the almshouse pauper is 51 years, an advance of six years in the last decade. The number of male paupers under 30 years and of female paupers under 40 years of age is less than the number returned in the census of 1880. In proportion to the population it is considerably less. There are 4,338 children under ten years of age reported in the almshouses, which is nearly 3,000 less than was shown by the report of 1880. The greater number of these are in the southern states. In the far west one-half the almshouse paupers are between the years of 60 and 80. Within the last decade the excess of male paupers over females has increased. The number listed, in all almshouses, is 73,045. Of these, 40,741 are males and 32,304 females. The figures upon centenarians are of no value, says Professor Wines, as they are mostly negroes who guess at their ages. In a Georgia almshouse was one white man who had in his possession a letter to himself dated over a hundred years ago. The old man is still able to hold the plow, so the superintendent reported. In the north Atlantic division, New York has the greatest number—10,272, Vermont the least—543. In the north central division, Ohio leads with 7,409, Illinois second with 5,335, Indiana, Wisconsin and Missouri in the order named, then Michigan with 1,916. In this group North Dakota has the least—35. These figures have no special significance except they are considered in proportion to population. Of all the states and territories of the union Wyoming is the only one which reports no almshouse inmates.

Jules Simon is called the grand old man of France. He has at last gotten a restrictive labor law through the legislature, which will ameliorate the condition of women and girls who toil in the mines and fields like beasts of burden. For thirty years Jules Simon has been the fearless and progressive republican of France, never losing hope for the ultimate salvation of his beloved country. He is an earnest free trader and one of the Forty Immortals of the Academy, but he cares nothing for distinction and titles; he is too much in earnest and has too much to do. He is 77 years old, yet as vigorous of body and mind as Gladstone, and as full of plans for the uplifting of his people.

Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher has stirred up a stew in the Second Presbyterian church at Indianapolis. In her reminiscences she states that her husband's salary was $600 a year, $100 of which was reserved to pay for their home. The trustees assert that records show that his salary was $1,000 a year, $200 of which was reserved for payment towards two houses which he had bought. A letter was sent Mrs. Beecher asking a correction. It was not answered, and in the next paper the statement was reiterated. Hence the reported "indignation."

The New York Daily Commercial Bulletin volunteers to become medium for contributions to aid the starving peasantry of Russia. It is in communication with N. Shishkoff, member of the Red Cross relief committee, in St. Petersburg, through whose agency the fund will be distributed. The Bulletin prints a double-leaded column review of the horrors of the situation.

The Wheeling Register puts forth this familiar plaint: "The shortage of natural gas this cold snap, and the irregularity of the electric cars, are the promoters of more cuss words than all other annoyances combined." Toledo is your kin so far as a touch of nature and a fellow feeling can accomplish it.

It is rumored that Ben Butterworth is about to resign his position on the world's fair board and come home to enjoy Ohio politics. Crowd along and make room for him.

And now it is recalled that Corporal Tanner and Private Dalzell have neither of them expressed views on the Chilean situation.

BIG CONSOLIDATION.

Colorado's Largest Interests to Pull Together in the Future.

Denver, Col., Jan. 28.—Negotiations are progressing in New York for the consolidation of the coal interests of the Colorado Coal and Iron company and the Colorado Fuel company, the two wealthiest and most powerful corporations engaged in mining coal in Colorado.

Officials of the company pledge themselves that if the consolidation is effected the market will not be influenced by the fusion, unless, perhaps, the general rate to large consumers may be lowered a fraction. The saving by the amalgamation of interests will approximate $50,000.

The Colorado Coal and Iron company has a capital of $10,000,000, bonds $3,000,000; the Colorado Fuel company has a capital of $5,000,000, bonds $1,500,000. Six thousand men will be brought under one management.

FINAL ARRANGEMENTS

For the Entertainment of the International Press League Delegates.

The general committee met yesterday afternoon to complete arrangements for the reception of the International Press League delegates Saturday. A committee will leave Toledo Friday night and meet the delegates at some point on the Wabash. Handsome souvenirs of Toledo, with lithographs of the principal features and the morning's program will be distributed to the visitors before reaching the city.

On reaching the city the delegates will be driven to the Produce Exchange, where a public reception will be held. Hon. Frank H. Hurd will deliver an address of welcome.

A drive about the city will follow, and luncheon will be served at the Toledo club.

Messrs. H. C. Vordtriede and F. N. Quale were appointed a committee on flowers.

Robison Locke was chosen chairman of the reception committee, and Mrs. Locke of the ladies' reception committee.

It is expected that about 150 delegates will be present.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE.

Cullom Wants to Make the Bill Lawyer Proof.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Mr. Cullom has introduced a bill in the senate to which he desired to call the special attention of the committee on judiciary, to amend section 860 of the revised statutes.

He said he presented this measure because of the recent decision of the United States supreme court in what is known as the Counselman case, arising in Chicago under the interstate commerce act.

That case went off the docket because the provisions of 860, R. S., (which had been on the statute books since 1868) in regard to the obligations of witnesses to testify, was not as broad as the constitution.

He asked that the bill be referred to the judiciary committee instead of interstate commerce committee, because the decision of the supreme court applied to all criminal prosecutions and not merely to cases brought up under the interstate commerce law. The bill was referred to the judiciary committee.

DIED AT 92.

Wapakoneta, O., Jan. 28.—(Special)—Solomon Hanks, one of the pioneers of this county, died at his home in New Hampshire yesterday. Hanks is a cousin to Abraham Lincoln and was born in 1799, consequently being 92 years of age. He has been a resident of this county for more than half a century.

TO ARREST A REFUGEE.

New York, Jan. 28.—The Herald's Callao, Peru, dispatch says that just as the steamer Abydos was leaving Arica an unsuccessful attempt was made to arrest the refugee Valdes Carrera.

Yellow fever is bad at Guayaquil. The steamer Pizarro is detained in quarantine here.

A HOME RULER.

Dublin, Jan. 28.—Mr. James Joseph Dalton, M. P., for West Donegal, and a distinguished member of the Irish bar, was married to-day to Miss Frances Delaney, of this city. Up to the time of his election in May, 1890, Mr. Dalton practiced law in Australia.

DAN LAMONT ILL.

New York, Jan. 28.—The Morning Advertiser says that Col. Dan Lamont is confined to his home with an aggravated attack of the grip, complicated with other ailments, and that his friends are somewhat alarmed at his condition.

INVESTIGATORS.

Washington, Jan. 28.—The world's fair committee of the house has ordered a favorable report on the resolution introduced in the house by Mr. McCreary, of Kentucky, instructing the committee to investigate the expenditures of government appropriations for the world's fair and its management. The resolution was adopted by a unanimous vote.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

Gov. Russell, of Massachusetts, has a salary of $5,000, and the mayor of Boston receives $10,000 a year.

Though only 12 years old, the emperor of Annam smokes cigarettes as freely as a dude of twice his years.

It is said that C. N. Felton, of California, is the richest of the new senators. He has one million to every three of Senator Stanford.

Ex-Senator Ingalls is erecting a building at Atchison, in which he intends to practice law, associating himself with his son Ellsworth.

George Moore, the novelist and essayist, is not unlike Emile Zola in personal appearance, though his head is as red as that owned by Swinburne, the poet.

A statue of Charles Dickens has been cast in Philadelphia representing the novelist in his latter years, sitting in his study chair gazing at a figure of "Little Nell."

Stockton, Cal., has a full-blooded Indian on the bench in the person of Charles Light, who was elected at the last election. He is the only Indian on the Pacific coast holding a judicial position.

Mr. Lorimer Stoddard, the actor, is a son of the poet Richard Henry Stoddard. He has made a success of his stage career, and is remembered as the funny little lord in Robson and Crane's The Henrietta.

Col. Souflot, who fought under the great Napoleon, recently celebrated his one hundredth birthday and was named a commander of the Legion of Honor, the simple cross of which he had worn since 1813.

Miss Mary Cullen, whose engagement to Sir John Swinburne has just been announced in New York, is the daughter of Dr. Dorsey Cullen, of Richmond, Va., and is one of the most popular girls in the southern society of New York.

Heinrich Ludwig Egmont Dorn, the German composer who died a few days ago, was Schumann's instructor in counterpoint, and a bitter opponent of Wagner. He was in his eighty-eighth year, and was a contemporary of Mendelssohn and Weber.

Albert Bierstadt, who is to paint four historical pictures for the world's fair, illustrating the work of Columbus, has recently spent a good deal of time in Spain and the West Indies, studying thoroughly scenery, costumes, equipment of vessels, and other details.

MENTIONED ON THE STREETS.

That "Old Glory" still waves, regardless of the Chile sauce.

That indications point to the filling of every ice house in the city.

That the Toledo climate—winter without snow—is once more with us.

That Mayor Emmick is wondering whether or not he will strike oil.

That a new candidate for the police clerkship will soon be in the field.

That Ohio rivers are yielding thicker ice this winter than the Michigan lakes.

That Hill men in Toledo are greatly elated at the boom their favorite is creating.

That the issuing of more gas bonds will be the sprouting of more new law suits.

That the abatement of improvement assessment is growing to an alarming extent.

That the coroner business seems to be falling off since Dr. Beckwith went into office.

That "Doc" Smith and Frank Reno will have something to say on the oil inspectorship.

That the circuit court in not backward in reversing the rulings of the supreme court of Toledo.

That the Hirssig Gun club will not enlist in the Chilean war. The game is altogether too large.

That Toledo is behind the times in not having offered a company or a brigade, to President Harrison.

That the new congressional bill would further complicate political matters in this section should it become a law.

That people would like to hear more about that Toledo base ball franchise which somebody seems to have in his inside pocket.

That society people who attend the People's theater should remember that the stage is the attraction and not the boxes they occupy.

That the respective friends of Tanner and Fogarty will not support Weier in convention, hence the springing of a new man on which they can unite as against Weier.

AGAINST THE CHINESE.

Montana People Appeal to Congress.

Helena, Mont., Jan. 28.—The city council has unanimously passed a resolution calling on congress to pass a total Chinese exclusion bill. For several months there has been much dissatisfaction in Montana over the influx of great numbers of Chinamen from Canada.

December 6 Gov. Toole called the attention of Secretary Foster to the systematic smuggling of Chinamen across the border, but no relief has been afforded by the government. The various labor organizations of the state began a boycott against the Chinese January 1.

HE STRUCK IRELAND.

A Showman and Newspaper Man Come Together.

Pierre, S. D., Jan. 28.—F. B. Ireland, city editor of the Capital, yesterday had a knock down fight with Don C. Hall, the leading man in quite a noted theatrical troupe that bears his name. Hall was assisted by two members of his troupe and for a time the affair came near being general on the street. Hall claimed Ireland had slandered his company. Ireland has had warrants issued for the arrest of Hall and two members of the troupe. The latter have gone over into ceded Sioux reservation lands and warrants have not yet been served.

Forever and Forever.

Justice Bradley's death calls up memories of the infamous electoral commission of 1877, as a member of which tribunal he gave the casting vote that seated Hayes in the chair to which the people had elected Tilden. Justice Bradley was a great lawyer, but the part he played in consummating that wrong will forever tarnish his fame.—Boston Globe.

No Time to Go Backward.

The bill to re-establish the whipping post in Virginia, which was recently introduced in the legislature, should not become a law—and we believe it will not. Public sentiment is against this barbarous punishment. This is no time for Virginia to go backward.—Louduon (Va.) Telephone.

It Probably Was.

The people of Kalamazoo, Mich., are much alarmed by subterranean rumblings and tremors of the earth, as though some confined force were striving to burst the bonds set upon it. Perhaps it is the Alger presidential boom vainly endeavoring to make its way out of Michigan.—Chicago Times.

But He Is a Democrat, You Know.

Congressman Springer has written an article for a prominent periodical entitled "How to Attack the Tariff." If Springer were not a democrat he would cover his whole subject in one sentence, "Don't attack it at all."—St. Louis Star Sayings.

Good Advice.

Our Washington dispatches intimate that the Harrison rats are very anxious to have the big Blaine cat belled or muzzled, but no one is ready to volunteer to do the job. It is an old story. Our advice to them is beware of the cat!—New York Commercial-Advertiser.

In the Sunny South.

For the first time in history the whole of the Rio Grande frontier is covered with snow. This has very much the appearance of very cold weather for Garza and his followers.—New Orleans New Delta.

Right, at Last!

Colonel Breckinridge, of Kentucky, who has been chosen to open the world's fair, thinks a northern man should have been chosen. The colonel will do. We know no North, no South, any more in matters of this kind.—New York Recorder.

Good Thing for the Democrats.

The returns from the republican primaries in New York state indicate that Hon. Thomas C. Platt is still decorating the interior of the breastworks.—Washington Post.

The Times Has Been Investigating.

Further investigation tends to the impression that the rumor of the invention of odorless whisky should be taken with a grain of clove.—Philadelphia Times.

TARIFF ON SILKS.

Paris, Jan. 28.—Minister Reid, who has recovered from his attack of influenza, being interviewed with regard to the reports of reduction in the American tariff on silks and wines on the principles of reciprocity laid down in the McKinley law, declared that there was no basis for them.

YELLOW FEVER.

New York, Jan. 28.—The British steamer Marcia from Santos, is detained in quarantine for fumigation, having lost her captain, Thomas B. Metcalf, of Shields, Third Engineer John Anderson, Chief Mate Smith and Fireman McDonald from yellow fever.

THE LINDELL SOLD.

St. Louis, Jan. 28.—The Lindell hotel, a six-story structure of 500 rooms, was sold yesterday for $600,000 to Chicago parties, who have about effected a re-sale of the realty to Boston people for a good round advance.

COL. CRAMER.

Fostoria, Jan. 28.—Israel Cramer, of the U. V. U., of this city has been appointed aide-de-camp to Gen. S. S. Yoder, commander-in-chief of the U. V. U., with the rank of colonel.

THE CZARINA ILL.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 28.—The czarina is deeply grieved by the death of the Archduke Constantine. The shock has checked the progress of her recovery from her recent illness and she is obliged to keep to her bed.

DR. SPURGEON SINKING.

London, Jan. 28.—A dispatch from Mentone says Dr. Spurgeon is in a critical condition. He is drowsy, though conscious when addressed.

THE PRESS IS MIGHTY.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 28.—The assembly has passed a bill allowing newspaper representatives to witness electrical executions.

DR. SPURGEON'S CONDITION.

London, Jan. 28.—A dispatch from Mentone says that Rev. Dr. Spurgeon obtained some rest last night and is slightly better this morning, but his condition is far from reassuring.

HOME FOR LITTLE CHARLIE.

His Pitiful Story, Told in the Bee, Raises Friends for Him.

A short time ago the Bee told the pitiful story of "Little Charlie," the crippled, orphaned waif, whose only home has been the county farm for the last six years. The story appealed to the kind hearts of some of our good people, and now a home in the city has been found for the little cripple, where it is intended he shall have the best of medical treatment, and have mental training, as well as the good care of body that he received at the farm.

Little Charlie's new home will be at 27 Huron street, with Mrs. Gilbert. His keeping will be partially paid for by the infirmary directors, but he is really become the care of the Y Flower mission. They will contribute to his keeping and look after his comfort, and would like such help in the work as the benevolently disposed will give. Any contributions for little Charlie can be sent to Miss Louise Bond, 234 Seventeenth street, and Miss Bond will give such other information about this case as may be desired.

THE SCOTTISH RITES

Still at Work—The Reunion Will Close To-night.

The work of conferring the Scottish rite degrees on a large class of candidates continued last evening and to-day at the Masonic temple, and the ceremonies are being witnessed by a large number of Masons from Toledo and the neighborhood. The music excels that of the past reunions. This evening the work will be brought to a close with a banquet, to which the ladies have been invited. As usual, a number of toasts will be responded to, and altogether an enjoyable time may be expected.

STUDENTS EXPELLED

From Heidelberg College Gobbled Up by Wooster.

Wooster, O., Jan. 28.—L. H. Shoch, W. S. Hibsman, W. F. Fouse, H. E. Hibsman, J. A. Beam, Earnest Abbott, O. P. Foust, H. W. Michaels and T. N. Beam, students from Heidelberg college, Tiffin, where they were expelled for pledging themselves to Greek letter fraternities, were made members of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity last night with great ceremony. That the faculty at Heidelberg is divided on the question of fraternities is shown by the fact that Prof. Edward Shives, a member of the faculty, is the grand worthy chieftain of the order, and was present and conducted the exercises.

FREIGHT WRECK.

Wilmington, Del., Jan. 28.—A long freight train on the Baltimore & Ohio road broke in two while going down a grade in Cecil county, Md. The two sections collided and ten cars were wrecked. There were three oil tanks among these wrecked, which took fire and set fire to the rest of the train. No one was injured.

BRAKEMAN KILLED.

Fostoria, O., Jan. 28.—The remains of E. O. Decker, of Galion, a brakeman on the L. E. & W. freight who was killed by the cars here last night, have been taken to his home. He was about 25 and unmarried.

TWO NICE DOGS.

I once knew a little fox terrier of marvelous intelligence—his mistress' pet, I have seen him, when he was impatient to go out a-walking, suddenly appear with her boots in his mouth, which he would throw down at her feet! Could there be a better hint, or could language convey more? Told to "fetch sticks," he would rush into a flower bed and pull up a stick or two to which the flowers were trained and return with them. I have even seen a dog who sang, or who made sounds like singing, when he was sung to.

Out at Camberwell, in a shop window, I saw a little white stuffed dog on a stand, with an inscription below. It was to the effect that this dog, at a fire at Luton on November 10, 1883, ran up and awoke his master and mistress (grocers, named Perry) by licking their faces. They were saved, but it would seem, in their alarm, forgot their preserver. A fireman went up and recovered him, but the faithful creature was so burned that he died in a few minutes. A very touching story. It had been better, however, to have thought of him than to have stuffed him.—Gentlemen's Magazine.

BANISH SLANG FROM THE HOME.

Slang is a note of savagery on our hearths and in our drawing rooms. It replaces the easy grace of courtesy by a familiarity often tinged with indelicacy, and is incompatible with that respect and deference that the noblest ideal of womanhood demands. And coarse speech is speedily followed by loose manners. No pure woman will speak a lingo into which it would be a kind of blasphemy to translate the Ten Commandments and the Apostles' Creed. There is something painfully grotesque in imagining a jolly girl of the period talking slang to the babe on her knee; and all good men must frown down such a degredation of the world's mother.—New York Recorder.

"Experimental demonstration of a free communication of the endolymphatic and perilymphatic chambers of the labyrinth of the human ear with extra labyrinthic intra-cranial cavities," is recorded as the immortal claim to fame of a late German professor.

FOLLY AS IT FLIES.

First be sure you know what you want, then go after it.—Atchison Globe.

The best medicine for self-conceit is to be well introduced to yourself.—Ram's Horn.

The man without a country lives in pitiable estate, but he isn't in it for friendlessness with the man who is learning to play the cornet.—Albany Argus.

So many new diseases are being discovered nowadays that the advertising departments of the patent medicine houses are awfully overworked.—Indianapolis Journal.

"And now there's the devil to pay!" exclaimed the newspaper manager late Saturday afternoon. And out of the cash-drawer he took $2.50.—Somerville Journal.

The absolutely natural, unaffected girl is as refreshing to contemplate as is the oasis that greets a traveler that journeys across a fervid, arid desert.—Pittsburg Bulletin.

The discovery of the grip bacillus bears about the same relation to the cure of the disease that the discovery of a "clue" does to the capture of a criminal.—Indianapolis Journal.

"How do you like congress?" asked one bill of another. "Not very well." "Have you been introduced?" "Yes; I've been introduced, but I don't think I'll ever get to be on an intimate footing."—Washington Star.

Rev. Mr. M.—Well, my little man, what shall you be when you grow up? Johnny (who has been instructed as to the omnipotence of the Deity)—I think I should like to be either God or a policeman.—Harvard Lampoon.

Operatic manager—"I can't afford to pay you over $17 a week and expenses, and you must permit me to announce you as receiving $1,000 a night." Mme. Highnote—"Make it $20 and you may announce me at $2,000 a night."—Puck.

Scribbler—Good morning, sir! A week or so ago I submitted to you a manuscript entitled "The Injustice Done to Authors." Editor—Yes, I remember it. Scribbler—When I wrote that I was fired by an impulse I could not resist. Editor—So was the manuscript, sir.—Boston Courier.

INFANTILE WISDOM.

It was a family dinner party at Capitol hill. There were present papa, mamma, and 5-year-old Katherine. The seniors began to discuss their friends, as is the wont of old married folks. The ones under discussion were Miss Blank and Mr. Dash, both of whom are employed in the government service. "Did you know, dear," said the head of the family to his better half, "that Miss Blank is going to marry Mr. Dash?" "Yes, dear," she replied. "You know she gets $1,400 a year, while he receives only $1,200, and I hear that she is going to resign before she marries him which I don't think is a very wise thing to do." Here 5-year-old Katherine, who also knew Miss Blank and Mr. Dash and was an eager listener, inquired with the grave air of a philosopher who has solved a difficult problem: "Well, if she gets $1,400 and he only gets $1,200, why don't he marry her?"—Washington Post.

The monster warship Philadelphia has been ordered to Santiago, while other war vessels, Boston, Chicago, Petrel, Baltimore, Cushing, San Francisco, Atlanta and Charleston are already anchored in Chilean waters; and the torpedo-boat Vesuvius is receiving her final armament preparatory to departure. To fight or not to fight—that is now the question. Those desirous of securing lithograph pictures of the ten warships above named, with description of each, should send 15 large lion heads cut from Lion Coffee wrappers for copy of our "White Squadron" Album, size 6x8 1-2 inches, with beautiful embossed cover. A SENSATION ABROAD.

HOW AN AMERICAN DISCOVERY HAS AWAKENED EUROPE.

The Credit is Due to a Citizen of the United States, but the Benefits Are Shared by the Entire World.

London, Jan. 27.—Considerable excitement exists among physicians in Europe as to the nature of the most dangerous of modern diseases, and whether it can be cured. Ten years ago Bright's disease of the kidneys was pronounced incurable by almost the entire medical faculty. To-day many of them are in doubt, and nearly all of the most advanced declare that it not only can be regulated, but that it can be absolutely cured.

High authorities have taken steps to ascertain the exact views of the leading physicians of Europe on the subject, and their condensed opinions are given herewith:

Sir Morrell Mackenzie, the leading physician of England, said: "I would say generally that Bright's disease is curable, but the man or woman who is troubled with it must be careful of every action, almost of every thought."

Dr. MacLagan, physician to the Princess Christian and other members of the royal family, says: "The name, Bright's disease, covers a multitude of complaints connected with the kidneys, particularly those complaints which are due to inflammation. How to arrest its progress is to answer the question as to what the latest cure may be."

Dr. William Edward Robson, physician of the royal navy, declared: "Like the majority of my professional brethren, I have long regarded Bright's disease as incurable. I think so no longer. Hundreds of my patients have been cured by the use of Warner's Safe Cure, and I am willing to acknowledge and recommend, thus frankly, the value of this great remedy."

Dr. Samuel Mills, of Charing Cross, said. "Bright's disease is not necessarily incurable. The duration of life will not be seriously impaired if proper precautions are taken."

Dr. Andrew Wilson, of the Royal Society of Edinburg, asserts: "Warner's Safe Cure is of a safe character and perfectly reliable."

Prof. Gerhardt, of Berlin says: "Bright's disease is curable except in cases of shrinkage of the kidneys, and even then the patient may live from six months to twenty-five years, during which period improvements in health may be secured by the use of remedies insuring the normal action of the heart."

Dr. Hoesh, of Berlin, says: "I have used Warner's Safe Cure myself, as I have been the victim, on taking the least cold, of rheumatism and palpitation of the heart. This sensibility has disappeared, also the action of the heart is quieter."

Prof. Winternitz, of Vienna, says of Bright's rheumatismal disease: "It is curable, and in its other forms life may be prolonged."

Dr. Gustav Weber, of Dessau, Germany, affirms: "By the use of 15 bottles of Warner's Safe Cure my general health has been restored, and I have completely cured myself of Bright's disease of the kidneys."

Dr. Dugardin Beaumetz, of the Academy of Medicine, Paris, said: "The danger in Bright's disease results from the crippled condition of the kidneys, which no longer take out of the system poisons resulting from organic substances. The treatment consists in helping the inefficient action of the kidneys."

Dr. E. H. Whirsel-Huerlimann, of Whippengen, Switzerland, makes the following remarkable assertion: "I am a living example that Bright's disease is curable. I suffered with that complaint for years, and know that the improvement, appetite and strength have been caused through the use of Warner's Safe Cure."

The above facts prove what has been asserted by Mr. H. H. Warner, both in America and abroad, for years, that Bright's disease of the kidneys can be cured. When this claim was first made it was scouted by physicians, but to-day the leading doctors and scientists in both hemispheres agree that Bright's disease not only may be regulated, but can actually be cured. This is both cause for gratitude to the thousands of helpless sufferers who have been restored to health and also for all patriotic people that this discovery for the worst known of all diseases emanated from America and was put forth by an American. Instead of feeling that the hand of death is laid upon the sufferer when the presence of this terrible disease is first discovered, there is ample assurance from the statements of the above-named physicians as to the cause and cure that no sufferer need despond.

AT LAST.

When on my day of life the night is falling,
And, in the winds from unsunned spaces blown,
I hear far voices out of darkness calling
My feet to paths unknown.

Thou who hast made my home and life so pleasant,
Leave not its tenant when its walls decay.
O Love divine, O Help ever present,
Be thou my strength and stay!

Be near me when all else from me is drifting,
Earth, sky, home's pictures, days of shade and shine,
And kindly faces to my own uplifting
The love which answers mine.

I have but Thee, O Father! Let Thy spirit
Be with me, then, to comfort and uphold;
No gate of pearl, no branch of palm, I merit,
No street of shining gold.

Suffice it if—my good and ill unreckoned,
And both forgiven through Thy abounding grace—
I find myself by hands familiar beckoned
Unto my fitting place.

Some humble door among Thy many mansions,
Some sheltering shade where sin and striving cease,
And flows forever through heaven's green expansions
The river of Thy peace.

There, from the music round about me stealing,
I fain would learn the new and holy song,
And find at last beneath Thy trees of healing
The life for which I long.

—John Greenleaf Whittier.

MASSED FOR THE ATTACK

United Crusade Against the Demon Rum.

The Isms of the Day Want to Pull Together.

The National Amalgamated Society of People Who Think That the Country is Going to the Dogs.

Chicago, Jan. 28.—It is safe to say that such a gathering as that which assembled here yesterday has seldom if ever been seen before. It was a national conference of representatives of the various political reform movements now existent in this country, prohibitionists, farmers, laborers, greenbackers, general reformers, etc.

Miss Frances E. Willard presided and stated the object of the conference to be to devise ways and means of electing a president of the United States who would with one blow kill the rum traffic.

Among those present at the meeting were Lady Somerset, George A. Washburn, of Boston, secretary of the the people's party; Gilbert Delamater, of Akron, O., who led some of his countrymen a wild chase after greenbacks; Mrs. Anna M. Diggs, of Kansas; Gen. Weaver, of Iowa; A. Wardell and H. L. Loucks, of Huron, S. D., and Prof. Samuel Dickey, of Albion college, Albion, Mich; Ignatius Donnelly was down for an opening speech but failed to appear.

The central idea is to unite all of these elements on one candidate for the presidency, in the belief that they outnumber either of the regular parties. The meeting was held with closed doors.

The fight for "nationalizing the liquor traffic" was largely ineffectual, for it found no place in the address brought in by the committee to be presented to the coming convention of the people's party in St. Louis. Ignatius Donnelly, in reporting the result of the committee's labors, noted the omission, and expressed the opinion that the address in its present form would not be acceptable to the people's party, and said the prohibition clause should be modified so as to save them the idea of individual right in the matter of beer drinking held to by them so tenaciously. In the committee room, he said, he had, though himself a believer in temperance, advocated the substitution of the phrase "abatement of the liquor traffic" as being more acceptable to the people's party, but he had been overruled by the rest of the committee.

Taubeneck, of Illinois, moved to accept Donnelly's suggestion and substitute the word "abatement" for "annihilation," but E. J. Wheeler suggested that "suppression" would be a better word, and in that form the address was adopted.

After the vote Taubneck announced that he could neither vote for nor against the address, because he was confident that its statement of the prohibition question would not be acceptable to the people's party.

The following committee was then appointed to present the address to the St. Louis convention, February 22: Dr. G. Delamater, Frances E. Willard, G. W. Miller, Gen. J. B. Weaver, Ignatius Donnelly, Samuel Dickie, E. J. Wheeler. Following is the address in full:

"The undersigned, expressing a consensus of opinion of an informal voluntary gathering of members of the people's party, the prohibition party and the national reform party, held the 27th day of January, 1892, at the Sherman house, Chicago, arrogating to themselves no right to speak authoritatively for any one but themselves, or to dictate the future course or platform of any organization, but perceiving the absolute necessity which exists that the people, rising up in their primal capacity as citizens and voters, should wrest the government of the state and the nation from those who have so long misgoverned both, hereby put forth the following suggestions to the people of the United States upon which we ourselves are substantially agreed. We are in favor of a consolidation of all political elements in behalf of these issues, to wit:

A—That money should be issued by the general government without the intervention of any private institutions in sufficient quantity to carry on the business of the country, and such money should be full legal tender for all debts, both public and private.

B—"That the saloon is the great enemy of reform in these matters. As the chief foundation of corruption in our politics we denounce its pernicious influence upon our country and demand its suppression.

"C—All means of public transportation and communication should be controlled by the government to obtain for all people an equal and equitable advantage in such services; and if the effort to so control said means of transportation and communication shall prove impracticable, then we favor government ownership of the same.

"D—That we are opposed to speculation in land and alien ownership of the same, and we demand a reasonable limitation of the amount of land that can be owned by any corporation or individual.

"E—That we favor municipal suffrage for women, with an educational qualification."

ENTERTAINMENTS.

Madame Modjeska in Mary Stuart at Wheeler's.

An Evening of Fun with the Wilbur—Salvini—Specialties at the People's Next Week.

Madame Modjeska, the talented Polish actress, presented Schiller's great play, Mary Stuart, at the Wheeler opera house, she taking the title. The house was filled with a fashionable and fair sized audience, and the splendid performance was highly appreciated. But little new can be said of Modjeska, as she is too well known to need comment. Her performance in the character of the ill-fated queen was a brilliant piece of acting, holding the audience to close attention through the whole of her five acts. Modjeska seems to feel her parts as though they were real rather than acted, and she seems almost to reach the sublime at times.

The star had a strong support of talented people, among whom were T. B. Thalberg as Dudley, Beaumont Smith as Paulet, Howard Kyle as Mortimer, Robert Payton Carter as Earl Shrewsbury, John A. Lane as Lord Burleigh, Kate Meek as Elizabeth, Helen Jones as Hannah, and Mrs. Beaumont Smith as Margaret.

An Evening of Fun.

The Wilburs presented The Jolly Perfumers at the People's last night, with Susie Kirwin as Rose Michon. As usual the house was packed, and the audience was very appreciative. The piece was well put on, and the leading parts were well carried.

About 100 of the Cycling club attended the performance in a body, and presented Miss Kerwin with a beautiful floral piece in the design of a bicycle wheel. The boys took possession of the house, and spent an evening of unlimited fun. They became rather boisterous at times, but the audience and company seemed to enjoy it.

Next Week.

The Howard Athenaeum Specialty company, which plays at the People's theater next week, is one of the strongest companies of the kind on the road, and comes here with the same company that played in Boston and New York. The Philadelphia Press says of them:

"The popularity of the Boston Howard Athenaeum Specialty company was once more demonstrated yesterday, when at the opening performance of the week the Central was crowded by an audience that was very lavish with its applause. The entertainment was considerably lengthened by the many demands for encores, which had to be responded to despite the efforts of the stage manager to ignore them. The Evanses, in their specialty, entitled 'Little Sweethearts,' made many admirers by their good singing and dancing. Fulgora aroused enthusiasm by his astounding transfigurations in view of the audience. Falke and Semons' musical act was received with many plaudits. The marvelous contortionist and acrobat, Mlle. Ena Bertoldi, a new-comer, is probably the greatest as yet seen in America, and she undoubtedly leads all female specialists in this line.

The Allisons introduced many new features in their act and sprang into favor thereby. Duncan, the clever ventriloquist, is as funny as ever, and has introduced many new and catchy features in his act. The Misses Melville and Stetson have evidently not lost any of their popularity, if their numerous recalls are a criterion. Kara, the Parisian equilibrist and juggler, is another novelty entitled to all that is claimed for him. Golden and Quigg aroused many bursts of laughter by their comical specialty. The Herren Braatz are the finest gymnasts that Europe has sent to this country in years."

The Hero of Romance.

Alexander Salvini, who will positively appear at the Wheeler next Friday and Saturday evenings in two of the most charming of romantic dramas, has shown great wisdom in a revival of the plays that the public find pleasure in seeing. They are tales of days long ago when honor and chivalry were esteemed as worthy of the sword, and stories that have been made famous by the pens of Dumas and D'Ennery. Mr. Salvini is the ideal romantic actor of to-day. Magnificent young manhood, of the truly classical Roman type; intellect, genuis, a voice as musical and seductive as the Lorelei's, as pathetic as Niobes; the child of sunny Italy, with all the poetry of his native land, he has had no rival since the days of Fechter and Forrest. On Friday night, Mr. Salvini will be seen in the title role of D'Ennery's romance, Don Caesar de Bazan and on Saturday night as D'Artagnan, in Dumas' masterpiece, The Three Guardsmen. Both are plays that appeal to theater-goers. Miss Selena Fetter and a large company support Mr. Salvini.

For the Tenth Time the Torch Has Been Applied and There is No Clue to the Perpetrators.

Burlington, Ia., Jan. 28.—For the tenth time within the past year an attempt was made yesterday morning to set fire to Burlington.

Yesterday morning fires were discovered at the Bennett and Frantz carriage works and the woodenware manufacturing plant simultaneously. Both are large structures and in the heart of the business portion.

Rags and poper saturated with coal oil were employed in starting the blaze. Public feeling is highly wrought up.

FROM BAD TO WORSE.

A Terrible State of Affairs in Russia.

Starving Peasants Are Making Trouble.

They Attack the Doctors Because They Cannot Stay the Hungry Pangs and Restore Them to Health.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 28.—Advices received here from the government of Voronezh show that matters in that part of the famine-stricken districts are going from bad to worse.

The peasants have become exasperated by their sufferings from hunger and sickness and in a blind unreasoning way they have turned their resentment against the doctors for the latter's failure to effect cures.

This same course was followed during the cholera epidemics which ravaged that part of the empire and the doctors having before them the memory of the fate of the medical men in the cholera years, have fled in terror from the ignorant peasantry.

In many villages in Voronezh the military have been called upon to suppress the disorders. In one instance the zemski, M. Natichalnik, appealed to the military to preserve order in his district, whereupon the peasantry sent a deputation to him with a very plain intimation that if the soldiers touched a single person, vengeance would be wrecked on M. Natichalnik himself.

The deputation were not at all backward in describing the form of vengeance the peasants would adopt, but stated that in the event of the soldiers troubling the peasants they would burn M. Natichalnik's house and kill the members of his family.

M. Natichalnik was badly frightened by the hornet's nest he raised. For he had every reason to know that the peasants would not hesitate to carry their threats into execution. They, in fact, practically defied the authorities to prevent them doing as they pleased. Troops had been sent in response to the request of the zemski, but the threats of the deputation had such an effect on him that he was glad to pray the officer in charge of the troops to leave quietly with his command.

In Tamboy, another famine-stricken district, the peasants have given another instance of their malevolent spirit. They tried to derail a passenger train near Borissoglebsk, by destroying a portion of the line. Fortunately the officials detected the damage done to the line and a very serious accident was with difficulty averted.

The difficulty of learning the true condition of affairs in the famine districts is illustrated by a story told of an occurrence which took place at a recent meeting of the famine relief committee in St. Petersburg. The czarwitch, who is president of the committee, was conversing with a gentleman who had just returned from a tour of inspection in the famine districts. The gentleman gave many instances of the heartrending scenes he had witnessed. The czarwitch listened to the pitiful details with an incredulous air, all the time twirling his moustache. Presently he said: "I believe you are exaggerating."

The gentleman thereupon deemed it prudent to retire. This incident has had a deterrent effect on those best acquainted with the actual conditions prevailing in the afflicted districts, and they display a very natural hesitancy in imparting their knowledge to others. It may be said, however, that the stories of distress and misery hitherto published fall far short of the facts and it is believed that the world will never know the full horror of the famine now prevailing in so many districts of Russia.

Corn Fodder.

Perhaps the larger part of Farm, Field and Stockman readers are now feeding more or less of corn fodder. In some way there must be devised a method of saving this very excellent feed, for at present it is very largely wasted.

In a dry climate, with but little wind, it can be left for the stock to pick over after the corn has been gathered, but in sections where there is much wind the leaves and tops are blown off and there is but little left except stalks and husks.

In damp climate, the leaves are rotted so as to be of no benefit to stock by the time the corn is dry enough to gather. Thus in all cases there is the heavy stalk to dispose of in some way before plowing time.

We know there are serious objections to cutting up the fodder, some of which are: the corn is not then fully matured; it is heavy work to handle stalk corn through all the processes of cutting, husking and hauling and feeding out. But the immense waste of this valuable feed and resultant manure must be met in some way, and each year finds more of it saved.

Two years in Kansas, where there was a most magnificent fodder crop, but no corn on it, we saw the many thousands of acres blown down to the four winds, lodging in ditches, by the road and hedgeside, where it was almost a waste, even as manure. In these large fields there was far more than enough forage to keep all the stock of the state during the winter. A few carefully cut it up, putting it in large stacks of 16 to 18 hills square, and where, well tied with binder twine, it would withstand the wind. Here we find the shocks made much too small and not well tied, and the constant winds are scattering many of them. Fortunately for such, there is but little rain, and the fallen shocks do not rot.

One thing will be an improvement over present methods, that is, make very large shocks and tie them very securely. Then if the crop is a large one and there is much stock to be fed, haul directly from the field to the feed lot.

Generally it will be better to choose damp days, there are few of them here, and haul to stack yard and set up again in large shocks, say four to six, and tie again.

Each locality may need different methods, but now is the time to study how best to use the fodder.—J. M. Rice, in Farm, Field and Stockman.

THE WAY TO GO.

You have seen California frequently mentioned in newspapers and magazines. Perhaps a friend has been there and writes enthusiastic letters back home about the climate and the fruits. It makes you anxious to see the country for yourself.

The time to go is in the fall and winter. Then work here is least pressing and California climate is most pleasing. The way to go is via Santa Fe route, on one of that line's popular, personally-conducted parties, leaving Chicago every Saturday evening and leaving Kansas City every Sunday morning.

Special agents and porters in attendance. Pullman tourist sleepers are used, furnished with bedding, mattresses, toilet articles, etc. Second-class tickets honored. Write to Geo. E. Gilman, Michigan Passenger Agent Santa Fe route, for folder describing these excursions.

ACUTE HEARING OF HORSES.

It is well known that horses can hear deep sounds which men can not. For days previous to the earthquake in the Riviera the horses there showed every symptom of abject fear, which continued without any change of character till the fury of the convulsion broke forth. But not till a few seconds before the earth began to quake did human beings hear any sounds, while it is extremely probable that the horses heard the subterranean noises for two or three days previously.

HE STILL LIVES.

Ten-Year-Old Jacques Blumenthal's Remarkable Career.

Jacques Blumenthal has been sorely chastised. He has been playing fast and loose with life and death for the last 10 years. Being no older than 10, his experiences are confined within that narrow count of years. He still lives at 181 East Fifth street. His first feat was falling into the river, which he did so thoroughly that he was almost drowned.

That was some time before he fell off the rear of his house, a distance of 24 feet, to the ground, and he got well in time to cut the artery of his right wrist so that he nearly bled to death. He recovered and had enough blood left to develop scarlet fever, with which he came to the City Hospital seven weeks ago, leaving that institution cured day before yesterday. He had hardly arrived over the threshold of his house when a lamp tumbled and almost fractured his little skull. He was returned to the hospital doctored up and dismissed last evening doing well. The only signs he has of all these injuries are two stiff fingers on his right hand, a result of his cut artery. Up to the time of going to press he has met with no new disaster.—Times-Star.

STYLISH UMBRELLAS.

When umbrellas were first introduced into England the courageous man who carried the new-fangled invention was followed and jeered at by a legion of small boys and mobbed by a crowd of hackney coachmen, who accused him of trying to destroy their business. And the difference between the original unwieldy fabric of canvas and whalebone and the present style of umbrella! We have gradually been improving and endeavoring to obtain the neatest possible appearance, combined with the greatest strength, and the very latest invention is made with a light but decidedly strong steel tube, which is fluted on four sides, thus enabling the ribs, when closed, to fit in flush with the "stick," so that the umbrella can literally be rolled up within the compass of an ordinary stick. Tailors as well as modistes now furnish an umbrella the same color or tone as the suit or costume ordered.

Keeley Treatment a Sure Cure.

Washington C. H. Daily Herald.

Editors Herald: Dipsomania—better known as drunkenness—is a disease, and as such it is treated at the Keeley Institute, and so effective is the treatment that a cure is certain and sure. Alcoholism is not only a disease of the nervous system, but the number of diseases arising therefrom are far more numerous than we are apt to think. We often hear that A. B. died very suddenly of heart disease, fatty degeneration, apoplexy, or by some one of the many diseases by which sudden death may be accounted for, where, if the real facts were made known, we would understand that he died from the effects of alcohol poison. But that would never do, polite society would be shocked, and the physician would lose his practice, if he possessed sufficient temerity to correctly report the facts of the case. Thus it is that death is attributed to other than the real cause, and youth is encouraged in the moderate use of liquor, when it would have spurned the proffered glass, did it but realize that an assassin, not heart disease, did the deadly work, and had been thus protected, because of the cloak society compels honesty to assume.

Since my return from Marysville, O., I have learned that one of our city physicians, in a public meeting, declared that alcoholism was a habit that could not be controlled by medical treatment, and, therefore, he had no faith in the Keeley treatment. In the first place the Keeley Institute does not claim that they can furnish a man with brains, but if this Aesculapi-ass will submit himself to the treatment I will insure him to return home a sober man, and as such, as far as the appetite for liquor is concerned, he will remain; unless, from pure cussedness, he again cultivates the appetite.

There is a pride and sense of shame which every inebriate possesses that is diverting. When sober he dislikes to be referred to as an habtual drunkard. When drunk he prides himself on being one of the best men on earth, and the one altogether lovely; but, when it comes to the point of being sent to the Keeley Institute for treatment, he is ashamed to have his associates know that he is being treated for drunkenness. Oh, consistency, thou art a jewel. He is not ashamed to get drunk and make an ass of himself generally before the whole community, but he is ashamed to let them know that he is going to get sober by being cured of alcoholism. That the cure is thorough, radical and permanent, there is no doubt in my mind. I now feel as I have not felt for forty years. I have no more appetite or desire for liquor than for any other poisonous drug. It is completely eradicated from my system so that I can form no conception of how whisky tastes. And it is not only so with me, but with all who take the treatment.

Alcoholism is as much a disease as epilepsy or any of the other ailments that attack humanity. I have frequently been confronted with: "Why don't you stop drinking?" "Why do you get on those sprees? You can quit if you will." The persons who thus confronted me, no doubt believed what they were saying, but not being diseased themselves, no argument could convince them that it was a disease over which I had no control. They might with the same propriety upbraid the epileptic and command him to stop having fits, as there was no sense in it and he could stop having them if he would. The man who has fits does not want them and would not have them if he could help it, but, like a periodical drunkard, he has them all the same. The drinking man becomes so diseased in the nerve centers that any excitement is apt to bring on an unconquerable desire for strong drink; he thinks he will satisfy the desire by taking one drink, he does so; the next day it requires two, the next day three, and so on 'til he is lordly drunk. When those fits are coming on he will buy liquor by the bottle, to prevent being seen in the saloon, take it home and secrete it in the coal house, woodshed, or some other convenient place, where he can unmolested take or rather steal his drinks. If his wife suspects him of drinking he will swear that he has not been near a saloon, or any other place where whisky is sold. If she, after careful searching, finds his bottle, he will swear by all that is good or bad that it is not his, and that he did not know there was a drop of liquor on the premises. Alcoholism affects all its subjects alike, as the experience of one is the experience of all.

I would advise all those who are suffering from dipsomania and want to be cured, to take without delay the Keeley treatment. There need be no sense of shame in taking the treatment, for you will meet with, as I did at Marysville, men of wealth and position, lawyers, physicians, editors, merchants, druggists, farmers, mechanics, etc., and whenever a new man arrives, there is an affinity that draws the others to him and they soon relieve him of all embarrassment by assuring him that he will feel like a new man in a few days.

It is all right for a man to go to the institute drunk, for I believe the doctors would rather receive him in that state; at all events, that is the condition in which they all arrive, for, in nine cases out of ten you could not get him there when sober, as at such periods he thinks he is all right and needs no treatment.

The only thing that I regret in my case is that I did not take the treatment some years sooner. And to you younger men, who are addicted to the liquor habit, and would avoid such regret, go without delay and take the Keeley treatment.

In conclusion I will say the cure is radical and permanent, and all desire or appetite for liquor is destroyed, and you are restored, as far as the nerve tissues are concerned, to where you were before you ever took a drink, and if you ever again become a drunkard you will have to begin anew and learn over again. Hoping there is no such fool among those who have taken the treatment, I would urge all others who are afflicted with alcoholism to take immediate treatment.

AN OKLAHOMA APPEAL.

The starved-out settlers on the sun-baked, blizzard-swept, God-forsaken plains of the Northwest should immigrate to the undulating, forest-hemmed prairies of B county, Oklahoma, and thaw out their weather-beaten hides, fill up their contracted stomachs and establish permanent, pleasant homes in a country where the roses bloom and the crickets chirp the year around and the bluebirds singing in the bush abound.—Tecumseh Herald.

Large heads do not always indicate intellect. Prof. Virchow, the German scientist, points out that the Greeks, one of the most intellectual of nations, are also one of the smallest headed of races.

THE PANAMA CANAL.

Will the French Government Put Up the Cash?

Something Must be Done or All Will be Lost.

Small Capitalists, Who Placed Much Confidence in M. De Lesseps, Were the Heavy Losers.

Paris, Jan. 28.—It is expected a report will soon be made to the chambers on the subject of the government assistance in the completion of the Panama canal. To understand the present situation, it is requisite to state that the ninety-three years concession of the canal granted by the Columbian government in May, 1878, stipulated for the opening of the canal within twelve years.

In 1881 M. De Lesseps formed his Panama canal company, which stopped payment and suspended operations in December, 1888. The amount of capital raised by that now bankrupt company amounted, according to the liquidator, to 1,329,693,078 francs.

Almost the whole of this enormous capital was furnished by the small capitalists, who placed blind confidence in M. De Lesseps, and who saw in the enterprise another colossal success similar to that of Suez.

Soon after the discomfiture of M. De Lesseps' company, the judicial liquidator, with the support of the government, sent a technical commission to the Isthmus of Panama, to determine whether it would be possible to complete the work.

This commission, at the head of which was the celebrated engineer, M. Guillemin, declared in its report that there was no insurmountable obstacle to the completion of the canal with locks. The capital required for that work was estimated at 600,000,000 francs.

In the meantime M. Napoleon Bonaparte Wyse was sent by the judicial liquidator to negotiate with the Colombian government for the prolongation of the time originally fixed for the opening of the canal. This was obtained in December, 1890.

The Colombian government granted a further delay of 10 years for the opening of the canal, on condition that the bankrupt company should hand over all its assets, plant, and rights to a new company, to be constituted for the completion of the canal, and that the new company should resume the work on February 13, 1893 at latest.

If then, the proposed new company is not formed within the next 12 months, the concession will lapse, and the Panama canal stockholders be deprived of their last hope.

TOLEDO TO WHEELING.

At Last the W. & L. E. Road Effects an Arrangement

Whereby It Will Enter Wheeling, W. Va., Over the Terminal Bridge.

For nearly a year the Wheeling & Lake Erie Railroad company has been trying to come to some arrangement with the Wheeling Bridge and Railroad Terminal company in the matter of an entrance and terminal facilities at Wheeling, W. Va. To-day Traffic Manager A. G. Blair of the W. & L. E. stated to a Bee that a satisfactory agreement had been reached and that trains, both passenger and freight, will be running from Toledo to Wheeling, commencing Monday, February 1.

For a long time the terminal bridge officials wanted an outrageously large sum for the use of their property. Their terms were such that the W. & L. E. could not possibly accept them.

The Wheeling & Lake Erie is now the short line to Wheeling. Toledo shippers have never had the advantage of a direct route to that city. The run will be about 225 miles and will be made in less than eight hours.

A new field will be opened up to Toledo, and the city, the public and the road itself will be greatly benefited.

Preparing Celery for Market.

The importance to celery growers of preparing their products for market in the most approved manner is very great. It matters little how excellent may be the celery head which he offers to the trade, if it is not pleasing to the eye, its sale will be greatly damaged. Neat trimming thorough washing and symmetrical bunching are required in addition to the growing of a good article, in order to realize the most for this crop.

At this season of the year all celery in the north is either in trenches or storehouses. From here it must be taken to a place adapted for the purpose and prepared for the market. This may be very tedious and annoying, or by using the last modern conveniences it may be reduced to no work at all. If you have several or many acres of celery in store, you will need two or more vats, made of pine, one foot deep and three feet long. They should be located where the water is easily reached.

If you have many acres, you should have a house with water supplied with a tank, into which the water is forced by a wind-mill. It is well to have these buildings located on the hard ground at the edge of the celery gardens, both on account of the ease with which an abundance of water is obtained at that point and on account of the better foundation afforded for the water tank. For the tank build a platform, firm and strong say 10 feet high, (the higher the platform the better, as the pressure will be so much the greater). On this, place a good tank of suitable size. A tank 12 feet high and 10 feet in diameter, will hold about two hundred barrels of water. Connect the tank with the wash room with a pipe. The only part which is exposed is that which runs from the tank to the ground, and in the winter this should be packed in some substance which will keep it from freezing. In the building a hose supplied with a nozzle should be connected with the pipe The washroom should have a rack running along one entire side where the light is good. On this place two or three layers of celery heads which have been trimmed cone-shaped at the root and cleared of all leaves which detract from the appearance. Place the tops towards the wall, and with the nozzel you can wash rapidly and well. The vats may be used to rinse in, and in the case the tank or pipes are not in condition for use they are found to be just the best substitute in the world.

From the washroom the celery should be taken to a room fitted up for trying. This room should be provided with a shelf running along the side. On this there should be trying boxes at intervals of about seven feet. These boxes are made square or round, the latter having the advantage of being of the shape required of the "dozen." In trying the celery it should be made firm but should not be bound so tight as to bruise the tender stalks.

It is well if the packing room can be in the same building with the trying room, separated by a partition in which there are small, close-fitting doors, through which to pass the celery bunches. The shelf in the tying should be on the side of the room adjoining the packing room. After the celery has been passed through into the packing room it should be allowed to stand on another shelf until it has thoroughly drained. Then it will be ready for packing. Then the packing box should be supplied with brown paper to keep the celery from rubbing against the sides. The length of the box should be made to conform to the length of the celery. The butts of the celery should be placed against each end of the box, and the tops should overlap to such an extent that there will be no sagging in the middle.

The packing room should be kept cool and of a uniform temperature. It should always be kept above the freezing point.—American Farm News.

The Pathway of Knowledge

—IS—

The Road to Success.

SPEAKING TO YOUNG MEN.

VICTOR HUGO once said: "It is the learning acquired at midnight that will make your futures bright and dazzling as midday." And in this terse epigram the great Frenchman stated a truth that applies equally to struggling, ambitious young men the world over.

In so much as you who have yet your place to make in the world will avail yourselves of opportunities to increase your knowledge and to improve your mind so will you make your life successful and happy.

A man's brain is a garden given to him to cultivate and whose products will be his support. Plant that garden with the seeds of knowledge, and from the vines will grow the blossoms of financial gain and honorable preferment.

Never before in the history of the world have young men had opportunity to fit themselves for the battle of life as it is now given them. In this as in every thing else Yankee push and American public spirit lead the world. These two qualities, typified in the publishers of the great Britannica, have made it possible for young men to acquire by little effort and less expense the

DID YOU KNOW

THAT the Ninth Edition of the great Encyclopedia Britannica was only completed in December, 1889, and that it has enabled the public to take the measure of this incomparable work and place it in contrast with other Cyclopedias? The result has been to establish beyond question its unqualified superiority. It is a giant where others are pigmies. It stands the noblest work in all literature; the one only adequate representative of the advanced thought and scholarship of the world. In the amount of brain work furnished, it immeasurably transcends all competition. It is the only Cyclopedia in which each principal subject is treated by an acknowledged authority upon that subject. No other has spent one-third as much money on literary labor as the Britannica. Not one has given $10,000 for a single article, or $600 a page for written matter, as it has done.

A ROLL OF HONOR.

We give to our readers a list of some of the families in Toledo who are recieving a complete set of this grand library through the liberality of twenty merchants, they having opened the way and made it possible for one and all to secure the greatest reference library in the world to day free of cost. In this list are given but 400 names, and yet when we remember that less than 400 sets all told of this great work were sold in the entire state of Ohio prior to issuing our edition, and that the same work is to-day being sold for $200 cash in Boston and elsewhere, also that these 400 names are but a part of the list already placed in our city we can justly call it a roll of honor. It shows the desire to own is controlled by the opportunity to buy and when so liberal plan is presented as this, there could be but one result. Perhaps our advertiser did not see you. If so, we will if requested send a volume for examination and have the plan fully explained or call before March 1st, at our office, Room 3, Bee Building.

YESTERDAY AND TO-MORROW.

Joys have three stages, Hoping, Having and Had;
The hands of Hope are empty, and the heart of Having is sad;
For the joy we take, in the taking dies; and the joy we Had is its ghost.
Now, which is the better—the joy unknown, or the joy we have clasped and lost?

A PIECE IN THE PAPER.

How Bobby Dibble Showed Appreciation of His Sister's Work.

"I wanter git a piece put in the paper."

"All right, my son, pass it over," said the bald-headed editor, glancing at the small boy with the dirty face and agate gray eyes, suspecting that the youngster had an account of a base ball game between the Base Hitters and Silver Spoons.

"'Tain't wrote yet," said the lad, "an' I'm a-lookin' for somebody as kin write it."

"What is it?" said the bald-headed oediter. "I guess I can fix it up for you."

"It's an advertisament 'bout a faithful sister," said the boy, fingering a paper-weight and breathing heavily.

"Whose sister?"

"She's mine."

"What has she done?"

"Got me out of jail."

"And what were you in jail for?"

"Nothin'; but some fellers swore a lie on me 'bout two coats."

"How did she get you out?

"She went to see Judge DuBuse. You see, mister, it was this erway," and the boy gulped once or twice as the bald-headed editor gazed at him searchingly before he told his story, "a bloke named Edgar Phillips—they call him Dead Man'—stole some clo's an' der cops pinched him. He kinder had it in fer me, yer know, an' w'en he see he mus' go up he dru me into it. He tole the police that me an' him done the job together, an' they pinched me, too. I thought it was all day with me, but my sister, she seen two lawyers an' they seen the judge an' made a talk fer me. 'Twusn't no use till they told him 'bout my sister. Then he told 'em to tell her to come to see him. She went an' told him how it was an' he let me off on her account, an' I want to get her advertised fer it."

The baldheaded editor looked hard and long into the boy's eyes for evidence of shame but could find nothing but pride at the possession of such a sister and a hope that she would get a proper "advertisin'. The reportorial instinct was aroused and visions of a sensational item, in which was a stern judge yielding to the blandishments of a grey-eyed siren with full red lips flashed through the baldheaded editor's brain. Finally the boy grew impatient and said:

"Well, mister, will you make a piece about my sister?"

"Yes, my son," replied he of the bare cranium; "how old is she?"

"She's 11 years old," said the boy.

The reply exercised the demon of suspicion. The siren with the grey eyes and red lips vanished from the baldheaded editor's mind and in its place came the figure of a timid, shrinking child,

* * * with the gold
Of the sun in her hair and

The dewy blue eyes of the faries of old, seeking an audience with the representative of the law, braving she knew not what for her brother's sake. The baldheaded man apologized mentally to Judge DuBose, to the boy and to the boy's sister.

"Yes," said he, "I'll write something about your sister. What is your name and hers?"

"My name's Bob Dibble and her'n is Susan Dibble," said the boy, and the baldheaded editor made a note of it.—Memphis Appeal-Avalanche.

ECONOMY OF INFLUENCE.

A Bachelor's Opinion of the Operation Known as Nagging.

Why will not women learn not to be prodigal of their influence? Power is dear to the feminine heart and should be treasured for occasions, not wasted at trivial and inconsequential times. A woman enjoys nothing so much as making a man do something at her request. She begs him to give up smoking, not because she dislikes the habit, not because she feels that it is causing him harm, but because when a man gives up a pleasure so great it argues devotion to the person to whose influence he has yielded.

Some women get so in the habit of objecting that they veto a bill before it is fairly before the house. It is, "Don't do this, Tom," "Please give up that, Dick," and "I don't want you to do the other, Harry," until Tom, Dick and Harry grow weary of the continual filing of objections, and, wise in their generation, go ahead and do the things and say nothing about them to the wife or mother or sister. So secretiveness steps in and confidence is weakened. In a clever book called "Matrimonial Advice," recently published, is a chapter of "Don'ts," a prominent item in which is "Don't Nag." This sort of thing savors much of nagging, and against nagging the mind of man has been "dead set" since the days of Adam. There comes times in the lives of all men when influence of the right sort is needed. Save your influence, my pretty friend, for such times. Don't weaken it by too consant use. Don't bother and fret and worry at the trifles, but wait and make your effort for the real things of life.

HEALTH FOR BABIES.

Much depends upon the regularity of an infant's time of taking nourishment, and yet, few seem to realize it. The shortest time between feeding should be nothing under an hour and a half and the most suitable time is about two hours. But the important point is, to give the nourishment regularly. Whatever time is chosen, do not shorten it because the babe is fretful. Apply warm cloths to the abdomen and feet and if a severe spell of crying cannot be hushed, try giving a little hot water. No need of adding a drop of peppermint, or camphor or any other medicine. What it needs is warmth, and hot water will give it without injury. Do not feed it to quiet it! Often, I believe, babies cry from an overful stomach. It is almost agony to sit and see the milk forced through its lips in the foolish imagination that it must be hungry to fret so. The best thing to relieve colic, for a simple remedy, is the warming by means of an inverted hot saucer, wrapped in flannel and placed over the abdomen. It will quickly relieve.

Care should be taken that the babe is perfectly clean. While it is in its bath, see that every wrinkle has been thoroughly rinsed. Then dry and powder, and then there will be no cause of suffering from chafing. Pulverized tea will often heal after the skin becomes sore, where infant powder or cornstarch seems poisonous. Even at so early an age the habits of cleanliness may be planted. Soon the little thing will crow and splash around in its tub, and enjoy as much as a bird does its bath.

After this has been done, nothing remains but to keep its feet warm and bowels well regulated. Do not wrap the baby up in two or three shawls and then wonder why it sneezes at every breath. Let it get accustomed to have no blanket or shawl about it. If not warm enough, add another long-sleeved shirt, but do not wrap it up and keep from all pure air.—The Housekeeper.

Small Farms.

So marked is the tendency in this country to cover a large area with a small capital that it might properly be termed an Americanism. We are especially convinced of the truth of this when we understand that in no other country is this mode of procedure employed by the farming classes.

To the American farmer the vicissitudes sometimes following agricultural pursuits entail nothing, apparently more impossible than the abridgement of his ideas, the disposal of a portion of the farm, and adapting himself to things on a small scale.

To own a vast tract of farming land, and to apply to it a management proportionately extensive, have been part of the farmer's education both by precept and example. He has learned, not so much to give vigilant care to small daily expenses, as to the calculation of net profits that will accrue to him from his soil productions at the end of the year.

These mistaken ideas can only result in one way, and the failures might serve as warnings to point out a false system, but they are not often so regarded.

As this country progresses small farms will be considered not only a necessity, but the most profitable in the end.

Americans would do well to look into the mode of farming employed in European countries, especially those of Holland and France. Farming there has been reduced to a science, and from their economically planted, well drained and fertilized patches they produce as much as is realized in this country on land treble the area.

In the earlier history of this country, and especially in the south where labor was cheap and plentiful, there was some show of reason for the purchase of large bodies of cheap farming lands, though to a man of inadequate capital the reasons against it, then and now, are the same. In the past few years the increased value of well located farming lands, the uncertainty and high price of labor, and the growing necessity for fertilizing, have formed a combination exceedingly menacing to the purchasers of large farms, on deferred payments, some of which are dependent on prospective crops.

When a man of limited capital buys a small farm within his purchase money, and refuses to be led off by the enticing prospects of a larger one on long payments in excess of his immediate capital, he gives evidence of rare wisdom which not often receives the indorsement it deserves.

It is not the size of the farm that insures success, but the economical laying out and intelligent care it receives. It is said that Cincinnatus was called from the plow to the throne, and that his management of seven acres of land gave him the reputation of being the most successful farmer in the kingdom.

Let no man regard it as beneath him to begin on a few acres of land to make a living. Let him give it attention, energy and patience, and he will succeed. If he is deficient in these qualifications, he would only be a failure in whatever he attempted.—Industrial American.

A COMPLICATION OF THE GRIP.

A Brooklyn woman is suffering from a heavy cold caught in rather an unusual way. To some persons even, though certainly not to the woman, it may seem in rather a humorous way. With the rest of the world this woman's domestic arrangements have been demoralized by the grip. First her cook and a day later the waiter succumbed to the malady and sought nursing and recovery at their respective homes. The waiter left late one evening, and the woman engaged by the day to assist could not be reached till morning. "I shall build that kitchen fire myself," was her last waking thought, and she arose very early to accomplish that and prepare the breakfast.

When she had laid her fire with the energy born of a novice and the mistress, and quite distinct from the usual kitchen goddess, she took the ash pan and hurried to the ash closet under the stoop to empty it. Alas! the basement door closed after her with a spring lock, and when she would enter she could not. It was one of the bitter mornings of 10 days ago, and it was very early—barely 6 o'clock—and she was the only member of the household known to be awake. She rang the basement bell vigorously and often. Its distant peal disturbed nobody in the upper chambers. Then she tried the hall door. Clang, clang, her husband heard sleepily in his dreams; but he remembered hazily that his wife had dressed and left the room, and she would look after the bell.

It was fully five minutes before the continuous ringing warned him that something unusual needed investigation, and he investigated it. Fancy his feelings when he found the "it" was his wife, chilled through and shivering on the front steps. Of this performance the heavy cold is the natural result.—New York Times.

THE BUSY GLADSTONE.

His daily life at home is a model of simplicity and regularity, and the great secret of the vast amount of work he accomplishes lies in the fact that every odd five minutes is occupied. No man ever had a deeper sense of the preciousness of time and the responsibility which everyone incurs by the use or misuse he makes of it. To such a length does he carry this that at a picnic to a favorite Welsh mountain he has been seen to fling himself on the heather and bury himself in some pamphlet upon a question of the day, until called to lighter things by those who were responsible for the provision basket. His grand maxim is never to be doing nothing. It must have been a habit early acquired in life, for after the double marriage in 1839 (Mr. Gladstone and Lord Lyttelton to the sisters Catharine and Mary Glynne) the two brothers-in-law surprised their wives and awed them not a little by filling up every spare moment. Out of their pockets came the inevitable little classic, Homer or what not, whether at a railway station or on any other of the thousand occasions when the ordinary mortal is content to lose his temper as well as his time. Some may still remember the familiar sight of Lord Lyttleton, lying on the grass in the Eton playing fields, watching his son's batting, bawling, or fielding, and reading between the overs.

Handy for travelers is Simmons Liver Regulator in powder. It can be carried in the pocket.

Breeding Trotters.

Leland Stanford has given in the San Francisco Examiner, his ideas of breeding trotters. He says:

As to my theories of breeding: In all my study of the trotting horse I have never found a really great trotter that traced to a Clydesdale or to a cold-blooded horse. Some of them cannot be traced far, but where one can be followed out to the end we find his pedigree running into thoroughbred, or running-bred, lines.

The thoroughbred whose pedigree can be traced back through 10, 15 and 20 generations is the highest type of a horse that we have. He has courage, endurance and the highest organic structure. In his essential points he measures more than any horse of equal weight.

The thoroughbred has in him everything essential to the trotting horse except the head. He can get that by education. Crossed with the trotting-bred horse the trotting head is given, and as the machinery is all right the half-breed is a trotting horse of improved endurance, speed and beauty.

In my experience with thoroughbred infusions I have never selected a mare for the purpose of breeding to trotters that she did not produce trotters.

Some thoroughbred mares that were castoffs as racing animals have been bred to trotters without success, but where I have selected a thoroughbred mare, paying particular attention to the head and the expression there, and then going to the other esssential points of the animal I have never failed to get trotters from her.

While I am a believer in infusions of thoroughbred blood in the trotter, I do not mean to detract from the worth of the trotter. I admire him and think him a noble animal of many good qualities, but I believe he is to be improved by putting good thoroughbred blood into him.

In working on this thoroughbred theory some breeders have made the mistake of supposing that any thoroughbred would do. The thoroughbred must be selected with as much care as the trotting horse has had.

My instructions to a commissioner whom I sent to Kentucky after thoroughbred mares were, look first at the head: if that does not suit you, look no further. The head first and the other points afterward. My success I ascribe to my system of training, which gets the supreme effort without the exhaustion, and to the breeding theories which I have just explained.

I am an admirer of the trotting horse for his qualities of speed and endurance, and from an economic standpoint as well. There are 13,000,000 horses in the United States. If by breeding them up we can raise their value $100 per horse we have paid the national debt.

The trotting horse is not an animal for simple racing or for wealthy gentlemen to drive fast on the road, but he raises the general standard of the horse of all work. I use the trotting horse for the heavy work at Palo Alto. Their quick stride and great endurance is apparent to any observer. They are capable of a greater amount of work, and will do it quicker than the horse without breeding, and as a horse's capacities for work are increased his value is increased.

EYE GLASS FOR CHAPPIE.

Lord Rosse's great telescope cost about $150,000. It weighs four tons, the tube is 50 feet long and has a diameter in the middle of 8 feet. A man can walk through it with an umbrella up.

No hands are hurt when you wash with Pearline; no harm happens to the finest fabric. The hands that are delicate have much less work; the things that are tender have much less wear. It takes away the dirt, and brings ease in doing it. Pearline for washing leaves nothing to wish for; Pearline in washing leaves nothing to be done. Beware of imitations. 290 JAMES PYLE, N.Y.

FOR THE TOILET

There is no more useful or elegant article than Ayer's Hair Vigor—the most popular and economical hair-dressing in the market. It causes the hair to grow abundantly and retain the beauty and texture of youth; prevents baldness, heals troublesome humors of the scalp and keeps it clean, cool, and healthy. Both ladies and gentlemen everywhere prefer Ayer's Hair Vigor to any other dressing for the hair. Mrs. Lydia O. E. Pittsford, Moody, Me., writes: "I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for some time, and it has worked wonders for me. I was troubled with dandruff and falling hair, so that I was rapidly becoming bald; but since using the Vigor, my head is perfectly clear of dandruff, the hair has ceased coming out, and I now have a good growth, of the same color as when I was a young woman. I can heartily recommend the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor to any one suffering from dandruff or loss of hair."

A TRUTH FROM "TRUTH."

The New York Central is really first-class in all its appointments. Think of it, it has four tracks laid with the heaviest of steel rails in the most substantial manner, and when you are sleeping or lounging around in one of their superb Wagner cars, and flying along at the rate of nearly a mile a minute, as some of their fast expresses do, you will hardly realize that you are moving, so excellent is the permanent way. A short time ago a special train made the run from New York to Buffalo at the rate of a mile a minute the entire distance.

THE UNITED STATES.

The United States is young but appears to us quite old,
Because so many people have been gathered to her fold.

The length of four natural lives would cover all the ground.
From the present backward to the time this land of ours was found.

In seventeen hundred and seventy-six on the fourth day of July,
We got our Independence, and for it we would die.

Great Britain did her level best to keep her subjects down,
But everyone was bound to have a power without a crown.

So when so many brave men signed the independent sheet,
Great Britain's power was broken and she knew that she was beat.

From that day till the present we've had foreigners by the score,
Because of kings and popery they one and all were sore.

Our forefathers stated when forming their new hope,
They'd have a power without a king and a church without a pope.

So our government was organized with thirteen little states,
And emigrants of every kind have been journeying through our gate.

The reason why so many keep coming across the sea
Is because our laws protect them and say they shall be free.

Our citizens are free men chuck full of royal blood,
There never was a nation like us before or since the flood.

Our politics are perfect and we have a right to vote
For any man on any side who our interests will promote.

The president like the rest of us can only cast one vote,
While the people have the power to strike the right key-note.

IT WON'T COST YOU A CENT TO VERIFY OUR STATEMENTS!

ONE THIRD OFF

TO THOSE of our readers who are of a sceptical turn of mind, and have no faith in our promises to save them many dollars on a purchase, we say,

COME AND LOOK!

MANY OF YOUR ACQUAINTANCES HAVE ALREADY BEEN CONVINCED OF THE GENUINENESS OF OUR LIBERAL OFFER AND HAVE BOUGHT AN OVERCOAT OR SUIT TO THEIR ENTIRE SATISFACTION.

DON'T STAND IN YOUR OWN LIGHT ANY LONGER, BUT COME, LOOK, AND BE CONVINCED THAT WHEN YOU SEE IT IN OUR AD. IT'S SO.

THE clean and enviable record we made last year with our Great One-Third Off Sale, served to strengthen the fait our old patrons had always placed in what we say, so that when we again announced a similar sale, the people flocked to our store at once. And why not, with such a powerful attraction as these reductions.

REMEMBER! THIS MEANS ONE-THIRD OFF REGULAR PRICES AND AS OUR REGULAR PRICES ARE ALWAYS THE LOWEST, IT MEANS YOU CAN BUY THE GOODS FOR LESS THAN ACTUAL COST.

YOU ASK: "How can you possibly sell goods at such prices, pay expenses, and still exist?" This is an easy one In the first place, our regular busy season (a very lively and satisfactory one), is past. All those who were forced by necessity to buy, have bought, so if we merely took things easy and made no effort to force our sales, we would have to carry thousands of dollars worth of winter goods over to next season. This we cannot do and lay claim to being live merchants, so we get the cash out of our goods, invest it in new spring goods, make our profits on them, and are then in a position to buy the newest things in next winter's styles. By pursuing this course we unload our present stock, get the use of our money, and have no old stock to pass off as new next season.
